Just A Little MAGIC

The first Freshmen Assembly is one of the more exciting things freshmen get to do during the year and looking at the faces of Tina Garcia, Carmen Louis, and William Walker just proves it.

You know, I really do love getting out of class for assemblies sophomore Susie Touset exclaims, while Anita Jones listens to 10th grade principal Mr. Joseph Cardinale speak on the tardy system.

"I always loved those cartoons when Lucy pulls the football away from Charlie Brown just before he kicked it," thinks Bernie Dombrowski as Steve Thompson runs up to kick the ball under the watchful eye of Coach Clyde Hoy.

Juniors Darren Young and Stacey Carter hang out at their lockers before going to their 4th period class.

What is the capital of Egypt? Helen Todd, David Ripton, and Darren Brian quickly answered Cairo enabling them to hold their 270 to 220 lead over Parkdale's Philip Goodwin, Ho-Yon Hwang, and Clinton Seabold at the It's Academic meet September 19 at NBC studios in Washington D.C.

"Surprise! Surprise! Tomorrow we will have a ten page test on the Crucible" announces Mrs. Ann Martin to her eleventh grade English class.

In Cosmetology I everybody has fun. Doris Billingsley obviously enjoys curling this mannequin's hair into one of the latest hairstyles.

Showing their support for the varsity football players at the James Wood game are junior Teresa Mathers, Haily McGrail, sophomore Lisa Buschbam, and freshman Joe Strickland.

"We had homework!" exclaims senior Kim Toth in Miss Stephanie Allison's 2nd period Algebra II Trig. class while Weslie Sierk turns around and patiently tells her what it was.

August 31 at Montclair Country Club, sophomores Bret Templeton, Dennis Krell and junior Billy Nelson practice on the putting green before their meet against Poto-mac, Woodbridge, and James Wood.

MAGIC

In Every Move

Every morning it's the same drill: The alarm buzzes, beeps, or whistles to awaken our young student. He then proceeds to take a shower while listening to the pulsating sounds of Julie Brown, Madonna, or Whitesnake.

Metamorphosing into the neat, clean, and academically skilled appearance of a Gar-Field student, he flies off to school for his training in academic magic. During the course of the school year our student begins to wield his magic, experimentally of course.

First period yields the splendour of making the correct equations materialize for a Physics exam. Second period follows with the casting of a spell on the fingers to magically perform a piece of music without the slightest mistake in note. By third period, with his magical powers at full force, the student channels his energies into athletic activities. The experimenting young magician makes every move magic when he attempts a jump shot and hears the swoosh of the basketball as it slowly descends into the hoop. Fourth period our student recites as if by magic word by word and line by line the Prologue to Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales. Once again the magic holds for fifth period as our student correctly spells and lists in chronological order the first and last name of every president of the United States. Finally sixth period arrives with French III and the magical "language of love." After school our young student's magic is still holding as he appears to mystically know all of the exact slots and gaps in the opposing team's football line up to plow through and score a touchdown. With his confidence growing and self esteem solidified, our student will make his mark at Gar-Field with every magical move he makes.

Gathering to chat about who said what are junior Tamara Peters, freshman Nichole Johnson, and juniors Jackie Carter and Latricia Benefield.

With glee, Jenny Moore explains to Doris Majors and Alexis Reyes about her first day as a Gar-Field freshman.

The master of video taping, film splicing, laminating, and changing light bulbs, is our own Mr. Wilson. Not only that but he also can whip up a pretty mean Subway sandwich.

"Head straight and show me some of those sparkling whites," the Segall Majestic photographer tells senior Laura Chavez during her senior picture session.

Sophomore Holly Rupert knows that you can't forget the academic part of student life. After all that's why she's here.

Nicki Meyers face shows the anticipation and excitement of the first day of school (September 8) while waiting for bus 171 at the corner of Kenwood and Kenmar.

Reading the announcements for the student body in the morning is a responsibility that senior John Rocha takes very seriously.

A future in electronics seems to be the thing for sophomore James Zurflueh as he carefully examines his circuit board, while Dean Albertson seems to be having a bit of a problem with his transistor

Over the summer, while most students were staying out until the wee hours of the night, Gar-Field was undergoing a facelift until the very last wee hours of the summer.

The most obvious physical change was THE FENCE. A lot of protest from the students was heard when the subject was originally brought up during the early part of 1987. Some have just accepted the fence as a part of the school now. Senior Joe Carroll says "I don't really mind having it there, but I don't think that it serves any purpose since the gates are always open." The fence was complete for the 1987 graduation ceremony, so students had time over the summer to get used to (will they ever "get used to" it?) the idea of having their school look like a "prison".

Along with the fence, came a new traffic light at the stadium entrance to the school. Students didn't really have much to say about the traffic light, since it made getting into and out of the school a lot easier than having to sit there and wait for a crossing guard to wave you on through. Senior Sean Lewis thinks the light is beneficial because "it helps to prevent accidents."

The most obvious internal change came with the changing of our "upstairs". We received three new assistant principals, Mr. Ron Thompson, Ms. Sara Fitts, and Mr. Jim Council. Along with the new assistants, we got a new head principal, Mr. Roger Dallek and a new Superintendent of Prince William County schools, Dr. Edward Kelly.

Junior Marc Carrano says he likes the idea of having a new grade level principal. "It was a needed change, and it has given us a chance to start over for the next two years."

Students that had arrived at school early in the morning last year, found themselves sitting outside until 7:20 a.m. This year, due to a new rule by the administration, students could not enter the building until 7:20 without a pass from a teacher. Another rule concerned the beginning of first period. Traditionally, first period began at 7:45, but this year, the academic day began at 7:40 sharp!

Some students had the surprise of getting one of the about eighteen new teachers that arrived for this year. Staying after wasn't so bad this year either. The students had access to a new vending machine that was put up on the outside of the boy's side of the locker room in the gym area. The soda machines were also available, as in previous years, for those who needed that quick sugar fix.

While the entire school was undergoing a facelift, so was the auditorium. Over the summer, new carpet was installed, as were new seats and stage curtains. So as you can see, the 1987-88 school year was a time for some magically big changes.

Setting hair isn't as easy as it looks. You have to concentrate to make sure a hairstyle is done right as demonstrated by senior Laura Leche.

Another new addition to the school were the "mini" pep rallies thought up by our "fearless leader," Mr. Roger Dallek. They were held each Friday morning before school.

Goodbye?! Never!!

In order to get into the prom Diana Moody and Steve Livingston handed their old invitation to Mr. Frank Bradsher and received a new one.

Taking a quick breather from the heat, an elegant looking Kathy Swider and Josh McMichael cuddle up for the photographer.

"Remember at the prom that night ... we danced so close, we danced so slow, and I swore I'd never let you go, together forever." And so "Never Say Goodbye" by the group Bon Jovi goes, and that's how a lot of people felt at last years prom.

The group Sinbad pumped out hit after hit for the glowing couples on May 23, 1987 at the West Park Hotel in Tyson's Corner.

Junior Greg Lowe thought prom was great. "My girlfriend and I were very close at that time, and it was a special night for us." Junior Leneetha Thompson agrees. "To me, prom was hot, but exciting. Monica Baker and I sang while Jay Knorr played the synthesizer." And sing they did. Leneetha sang Klymaxx's "I Miss You", and Monica and Jay sang Atlantic Starr's "Always". As Ne-Ne put it, "Overall, everything was great!"

Sometimes even the best of dancers have to sit and take a break as demonstrated by Billy Wise, Kirsten Page, Steve Ball, and Jenny Warren.

"I think I looked sporty in the tux, but I think she looked better." That's what Kurt Bolland thought of prom and his date Tracy Johnson.

"Gimme a beat!" exclaims Kathy Rich as she and Troy Conner, Marya Wright, and Keith Papanickolas get down on the dance floor and dance the night away.

Leslie Pitt and her date Domenic Bianchini are all smiles this night as the photographer captures their happiness for a lifetime.

CONGREGATIONS...

... everyone likes to stay together.

Football games are a great place to be with friends. At the halftime celebrations, the varsity cheerleaders and the varsity football players get fired up to finish the game.

Walking down the halls of the school, one sees groups of friends holding up the walls. Friends are an important part of high school. States senior Alicia Drago, "Friends-- they make life worth living!"

Friends sit together during assemblies, pep rallies, lunch, before school, and any other time that they can be together.

In the classroom, friends try to sit together as often as they can, while teachers insist on seating students in alphabetical order.

There are many clubs and sports to participate in. If you do not wish to become involved in a club or a sport, the sporting events are a sure place to find someone to hang out with.

Friends -- they make life worth living!

--Alicia Drago

Homework is a common bond that draws seniors Donnie Sketo and Kristy Tomchek to the library.

The Junior assembly provided another chance to visit friends. Already settled are Joel Mills, Billy Nelson, Eugene Smith, and Mike Craft, as Jeff Smith makes his way to his seat.

Eating in the cafeteria is a time to catch up on the day's events, and juniors Troy Fontillas, Jeter Holloway, Claude Barfield, and Byron Petruskas do just that.

REACHING FOR THE STARS

"Whose Life is it Anyway?" Junior Kit Allen asks Sophomore Kim Sierk in a scene from the play by B. Clark.

DC 101's Adam Smasher entertained the audience as the "Master of Ceremonies".

"The stars of the future ... " were DC 101's DJ's Adam Smasher's words as the red curtain parted to reveal the talent and entertainment that only Garfield can provide. The 1987 Junior Variety Show was unlike any other show ever held. It was in competition form, starting with tryouts and then narrowing down to semifinalists. The semifinalists performed on March 27 and from that finalists were chosen to perform on March 28. It was similar to the network television show Star Search with the categories Comedy, Drama, Vocalists, Dance, Bands, and Spokesmodels. Thus the appropriate name -- Star Search '87.

A lot of preparation was needed to put the show together. Costumes were needed and work to be done, but all taking part in Star Search did their best to get the job done. "We just got together and after awhile things fell into place," said Senior Anthony McWilliams, winner of the dance competition.

Music ranged from hard rock to rhythm and blues. Junior Monica Baker sang "Let's Wait Awhile" from the Janet Jackson soundtrack to win in the vocalist competition while Dawn at Dusk, winner of the band competition, "Fought for their Right to Party!", a song by the Beastie Boys. Sophomore Sean Masciandaro, guitarist for Dawn at Dusk, said, "It was great to feel the enthusiasm of the audience."

The spokesmodel competition was won by Freshman Angela Carter. "I've always wanted to do something like this so I did," said Angela. Comedienne Monica Wright, a senior, won the comedy competition. Back on a more serious note, the drama competition was won by Kit Allen and Kim Sierk in their performance of "Whose Life is it Anyway?" by B. Clark. Kit says, "I just wanted to show my friends and myself that I could do it. I don't want to be an actor but who knows?"

As always, the winners of Star Search '87 will move on to bigger and better things, but no one will forget the two nights in March when the stars shined.

A Glamorous Experience

"Can I have a drumroll please?" Seventeen teenage girls hand in hand stand anxiously awaiting the moment when one would be crowned to represent their community.

"And the 1987 Miss Dale City is . . .," said the Stonewall Jackson Assistant Principal, currently the Head Principal of Gar-Field Senior High School, Roger Dallek, "Gina Cosentino." The petite young lady stepped forward to receive her crown and trophy along with a one thousand dollar scholarship presented by Neabsco Supervisor John Jenkins. The tears streaming down her face may have been misleading but Gina assured the crowd saying, "I am happy. I'm just shocked!"

First runner-up, Sandra Blackett received a seven hundred dollar scholarship while the second runner-up, Sarah Gresham, received a two hundred dollar scholarship. One hundred dollar scholarships went to third runner-up, Cheryl Beighlea and fourth runner-up, Theresa Johnson.

Gina also was voted Miss Congeniality by the other contestants while Alison Gaither was voted Miss Photogenic.

The dance production theme "If my friends could see me now" was performed by the contestants wearing leotards before more than three hundred and fifty viewers. The routine was taught to the girls by the 1983 Miss Dale City, Michela Jordan, whose mother Shirley Jordan along with Doris Davis are the chairpersons of this event. Ms. Davis says, "Working with girls and the committee seems to make the pageant better each year." However, the contestants were not judged exclusively on the dance routine but in four other categories as well.

First, hours before the pageant each girl was interviewed personally by a panel of judges. "The interviews are probably the most important segment," says Sandra. "It's when the judges really see how well you can speak and also judge your personality." The second part of the competition is for formal gowns. Each girl is escorted by a Prince William Air Patrol Cadet and introduces themselves to the audience. This event is followed by modeling an outfit of each girls choice. Gina says, "Modeling the gown was easy but modeling the cowgirl suit really made me nervous." The fourth part of the competition was an impromptu question asked of each contestant by Mr. Dallek. Theresa Johnson said, "The question that they ask is off your information sheet but not knowing what they are going to ask is what makes you nervous. I definitely liked the modeling segment better!"

Proceeding the modeling events, the Dominants, under the direction of Debbie Moyers entertained with their 1987 Spring show consisting of nine songs.

Backstage, Tonia Walker and Laveuerne Ferron, the reigning 1986 Miss Dale City, prepared to take their final walks of reign.

Mr. John Jenkins said, "We need a Miss Dale City to represent our area, not only does it select a well rounded young lady but shows academic achievement and is a good scholarship program." The Miss Dale City pageant has been running for seven years, this year was very special for all the winners came right out of Gar-Field. Gina says "Because of the rehearsals I met so many people who go to the same school as me but I never knew them until the pageant. Several rehearsals and a mother/daughter tea were only some of the activities to be attended by all the contestants. Miss Dale City and her runners-up also participate in the fourth of July Parade and the Dale City Civic Association picnic.

Backstage Tiffany Young typifies the emotion felt by many of the contestants.

With a bouquet of flowers, Tonia Walker and Laveuerne Ferron congratulate the new 1987 Miss Dale City, Gina Cosentino.

As a tribute to the memory of a lifetime, junior and fourth runner-up, Theresa Johnson, proudly displays her trophy and yellow roses.

Gina Cosentino takes her walk of congratulations after being awarded the New 1987 Miss Dale City.

The Miss Dale City contestants gather for a group shot after the prizes were awarded.

Attending this year's event is the former 1986 Miss Dale City Laveurne Ferron.

As first runner-up, Sandra Blackett proudly accepts her trophy and flowers.

Some people really started their summer off with a bang. On June 30th, Shane Felde was on his way to get his hair cut when his 1986 Chevette hit two trees on Old Delany Road. Total repair cost: $4,000.

While most people stayed in the country, Melissa Self went to Europe with Girl Scout Troop 2096. Among the countries they stopped in were England, Switzerland, Germany, Lichenstein, and the Water Gardens in Austria.

In June, Jay Ziesler spent two weeks with his father and grandfather camping in Noma County, Oregon. The highlight of the trip was jumping off the numerous waterfalls they encountered along the way.

In August, Mary Beth Light and Marc Richards traveled to Nags Head, North Carolina, where they found fun in the sand, and not to much sun.

In July, Lori Schroeder made a new friend of Tigger on her trip to Walt Disney World (Florida).

Summer Vacations...

We do some wild and wacky things!

Shamoo the famous "killer" whale from Sea World in Florida had no harmful intentions while he was giving Kathy Swider a "whale" of a wet hug.

Summer vacations. The part of school everyone looks forward too. They can vary from the ever popular beach to the not so popular "low-impact camping" (dehydrated food, no running water, outhouses, etc.).

Vacations aren't always hot like the beach. When Jay Ziesler went jumping off of waterfalls in June, he said "the water was so cold!" When Sherri Bowman spent two weeks out in New Mexico (known for its tropical climate), she saw two feet of snow, and had a snowball fight on July fifth!

On the other hand, when Lori Schroeder went to Acapulco "the weather was gorgeous. It was warm and sunny." Of course the sun is not the only factor that has to do with how much fun one has. Tracy Ferrell said "the waves weren't good enough for surfing, so we played in the sand."

But soon the summer ended, and it was time to calm down (some what). No more partying until the wee hours of the morning on Wednesday. Now it's back to doing homework until the wee hours of the morning on Wednesday.

Chris McCarthy, and Eric Stoutamyer had a real surprise when they hooked up with the Redskin's Jeff Bostic at the Tantallon Country Club in Fort Washington, Maryland.

St. George was only one stop Sandra Blackett, her father Dave, mother Pat, sister Davina, and brother David made on their cruise to the Bahamas in late July.

"More Fun In The Sun"!

The beach has always been a popular place for fun in the sand, and that's exactly what Tracy Ferrell and Janice Derderian had when they went to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. "We met Chris and Jamie down there, and they buried us alive."

Unlike others who had to travel to the beach for a great tan, all Scott Lazerson had to do was go to Hamill Mill Pool in Woodbridge where he was a lifeguard for the summer.

The Breakers Hotel in Virginia Beach was the spot for Rebecca Saxon and Raquel Brown's vacation in July. They had to leave quick though because as Raquel put it, "I might get attached to this place."

Teresa Mathers met her friends Patrice and Paulette Regal from Pennsylvania at the North Bay Shore Campground in Virginia Beach where the girls first met three years ago, and have returned every year since.

Seeing the man of their dreams only took Pam Jefferson and Laura Chavez up to the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Washington D.C., where they met Brian "Dusty" Bloom of As The World Turns.

John Mick had a blast when he went to Dayton, Texas for his nephew Steven Norcross's birthday.

If girls can see guys of their dreams, then why not the other way around? Well that's exactly what Donny Bryant and John Mick did at Potomac Mills Mall in June when they went to see the Hollywood Starkettes.

While at Myrtle Beach this summer, Lynn Gianni and John Lingafelt found "true love" and friendship under the palm trees.

While some people were living it up at the beach, Sherri Bowman, and Mike Canup (a 1987 Potomac graduate) were part of an Explorer expedition to New Mexico where they hiked over 80 miles in 12 days. One side trip was a hike up Baldy Mountain where they found two feet of snow in various places on July fifth.

Down by several points at halftime, the Indian's football team went into the locker room dirty, tired and depressed. They knew that the tables had to turn and turn quick if they were going to win their homecoming game.

When they came out of the locker room though, it looked like a whole new team was out on the field playing. The defense held the North Stafford Wolverines to a scoreless second half. Meanwhile, the offense took advantage of mistakes made by the Wolverines and converted them into valuable points.

While the final seconds were ticking away, the Indian's fans started celebrating. Their team had come back to pull off a crushing 35-17 victory.

Celebration was the name of the game for Glenn Baucom and Eric Lambert as the Indians crushed the North Stafford Wolverines for a big homecoming victory.

Four year manager Becky Stuck and manager Elizabeth Fredericko not only help cheer the team on to victory, but provide them with water and help with some first aid.

"Hum... I wonder what would have happened if we had run it this way?" Steve Cardwell demonstrates that attention, concentration and trial and error are the key for any game.

Victory Sweet Victory!

A face only a mother could love!

Hard work and determination helped the seniors dream of winning the competition with their haunted house float come true.

"And the 1987 homecoming queen is ...Diana Moody". Escorted by her proud father, Diana was clearly surprised when her name was announced as the queen.

Sophomore princesses Anita Jones and Susie Touset hope that one day they might have the honor of being the homecoming queen.

Surprise!

Homecoming was full of surprises. The float competition was stiff this year. For the first time in three years, the Crew Club didn't enter the competition, making way for the senior class to win the float contest with their haunted house.

With the homecoming dance falling on Halloween night, as couples entered the school they weren't greeted by the usual exotic decorations. The main lobby was decorated as a haunted house. Each of the doorways to the lecture hall were decorated in a Halloween theme. It took many volunteers numerous hours after school and working from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. the day of the dance to decorate the lobby.

This years festivities were definitely a turn around from last years "homecoming that almost wasn't".

"Excuse me? What's the name of this song?" Cynthia Zeunges wants to know, while her date Jason Davis seems to be more intent on dancing rather than talking.

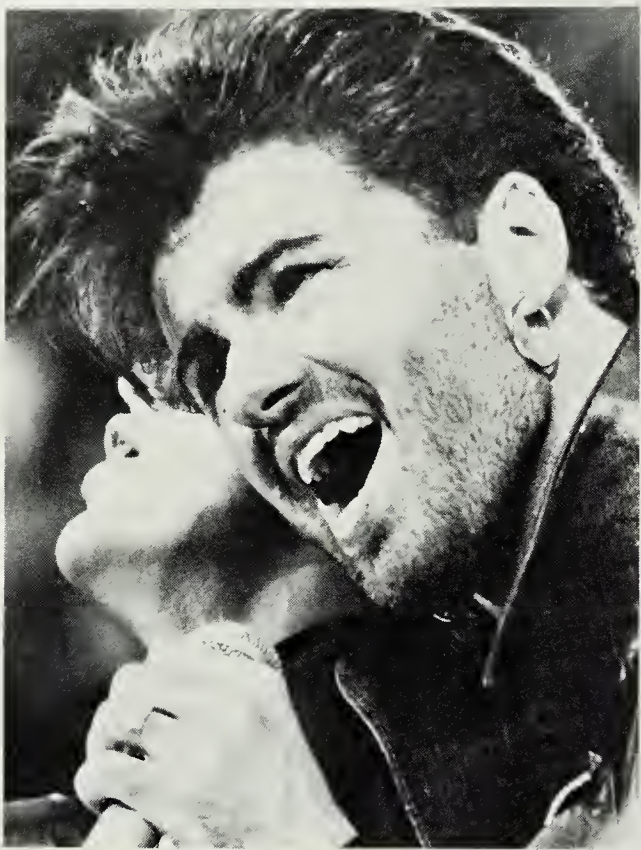

As couples entered the school, they were greeted by the witch from William Shakespeare's play "Macbeth".

It seems like dancing the night away was all that Richard Farley and his date Sheila Jennings had in mind that magical night.

Halloween

Halloween is a time of year when everyone can let their hair down and have a good time. It is the one time of the year when odd behavior is acceptable. Some of that craziness really goes to some people's heads, though. It is a day when the faculty and staff can show the student body that they are not just people who come here to teach, but that they also like to have some fun and show their school spirit. In turn, students have the opportunity to show how silly they are to their teachers and the rest of the staff.

"I'll turn into a piece of paper one of these days!" Says our ever-faithful copy woman Ms. Nancy Collatos.

"Cowabunga! No one messes with me!" says freshman Wesley Sprouce.

Michiko, a cafeteria worker, looks like she's enjoying revisiting her childhood.

It Takes Magic

Only an athlete and his coach can understand what goes into participating in a sport. It takes dedication added to hard work, and the result is a magic feeling of team unity.

A person needs dedication for the numerous practices and games. Many sports, like volleyball, cheerleading, and football, have early morning practices. During the school year many practices often run until five or six o'clock at night. After an exhausting practice, there is still the agony of homework and the not to be forgotten social life every busy teenager is still left to face.

Hard work is essential to the success of any team. All of the sweat, the pain, and the tears eventually lead to a common goal of victory. The feeling of school spirit, unity, and the desire for victory pulls the team together. This magic feeling is only accomplished by the belief and desires of an athlete to fulfill a goal.

Chopping up the grass at the Montclair Country Club match against Potomac, Woodbridge, and James Wood on August 31, junior Byron Petrauskas strives for a long drive.

Maneuvering in the backfield, Katrina Vanderhoof and Leslie Pitt work together to keep the opposition from scoring.

A good play in the September 4 varsity football game against Oxon Hill is cause for Chris Houston, Steve Cardwell, Billy Wise, and Aaron Donnelly to celebrate.

Track star Tom Brandt has a clear lead over his competitors from Stonewall Jackson and Potomac at the October 19 Great Meadows Invitational race.

Concentration is the name of the game in any sport. In the Varsity Soccer game against Potomac (2-1), Jim Verschueren and David Castell concentrate on playing strategies for the remainder of the game.

A "LOVEABLE" Game

Coach Ed Johnson summed up the 1987 tennis season best with his words, "We were extremely young and inexperienced but we played up to the highest level of our potential." Out of a team of 16 players, only four were veterans. Coach Johnson explains, "Our only weakness was inexperience, but our strengths were will-power and desire."

And for the team? Losing is never a complete loss, because from losing you gain the needed experience for the future.

Lunging desperately, Hung Le hopes to make the winning point.

MVP Sean Lamb gave every move and every game absolute concentration.

To get that all important point, Robert Fischer puts his shoulder and arm into motion.

"We played up to the highest level of our potential."

"Come on! Be a nice little ball and come to daddy," says Tommy Houg.

"Ugh! How could you hit me? I was so nice to you!" says Phil Lefelier.

PUTTIN' ON THE HITS

Coming off of a 7-win, 11-loss season in 1986 may be difficult for some teams but not for the Varsity Baseball Team.

Considerable improvements were noted by Catcher Dean Munson. "Last year's ('85-'86) team was younger and less experienced. This year was ten times better." The team finished at five wins, eleven losses, and two ties.

Pitcher Jack Martin agrees. "I improved 100%," he said. "And so did the team."

An unusual presence on this year's team was that of freshman Skip Saunders. It's not everyday that a freshman is on a varsity team, but everyone accepted him for the athlete he was and not for his age.

Every year at Gar-Field's Awards Ceremony, Coach Tony Labozetta presents one player with the John David Venti Memorial Award. This massive trophy represents the appreciation and memory of Venti, who died in a car accident in 1984. It is awarded to the student who according to Coach Labozetta "best exemplifies the importance of academics and the attitude and skill of athletics." This year's recipient was Dean Munson. "It's recognition of the highest form," he said. "I'm glad they picked me to do it justice."

As is always the case, of course there is room for improvement. Some players graduate, some move on. Still others move up, through try-outs or junior varsity experience. But always remains "the importance of academics and the attitude and skill of athletics."

OUT! OUT! OUT! is the ringing cry as Richard Dickhute makes the catch at first base.

A quick strategy meeting is held during the Gar-Field/Potomac game by Jack Martin, Dean Munson, Coach Labozetta, and Richard Dickhute on the mound.

Ready, set, go! Chris McCarthy waits patiently to take off for home and score.

"They seemed to accept me right off, even though I'm two years younger than most of them."-Skip Saunders, freshman.

With each new season it's “GLORY DAYS”

For the second year in a row, the Junior Varsity Baseball Team placed first in the district, this year with a 10-2-1 record. Although the season ended well, the team feels that they did not start off the season right. “The first game we made a lot of errors and we weren’t organized, but after that, we did well,” states pitcher Byron Petrauskas.

At the beginning of the season, Coach Murphy stated that “we will be successful if we have a good attitude and good work habits.” Working hard paid off, in this case earning first place.

So what exactly did they do that made them number one in the district? “We kept practicing something until we’d get it right. Coach Murphy would work with us on the problem until we’d get it right, states Jerry Watts. Says Clarence Fowler, “It’s good to have a coach who shows you something, not just tells you to do it right.”

Assured of another victory, Byron Petrauskas, Robert Hayward, Chris Bachman, Chad Lode, and Jerry Watts celebrate the winning of the Potomac game.

Waiting patiently on deck is Tom August as teammate Brian Watts is about to cross the plate.

Making his way back to base, Jeff Smith manages to beat the tag.

Practice Makes Perfect

Last year's Varsity Softball Team was in its prime. Every player on the team knew the strenuous, physical and emotional demands required to play on a varsity level. This year only half of last year's players returned due to the fact that half of the team graduated.

This year's team had a lot of hard work and practicing to do. At the beginning of the season Coach Jennifer Jones stated, "Our biggest problem is the inexperience in pitching." This year's pitching staff had one tough task in front of them. Since the team's two best pitchers, Tracy May and Chrissy Porter, graduated the burden was placed on sophomore Stephanie Hosier's shoulders. Stephanie stated,

"A lot of the pressure is taken off when you know that the best defense in the country is backing you up."

The defense was so good that they won eight games in a row! The team didn't become cocky due to the fact that they were constantly under pressure and had a burning desire to win. As a result of that desire the team got farther than it has in the past five years. The team was so good that they made it to the Commonwealth District playoffs. How did they get so far? "We may not have a lot of experience but we sure have a lot of heart," explained senior Barbie Sprinkle. The team was known for its spirit and pep. It was that spirit and pep that led them to the playoffs and helped them to overcome three of their biggest rivals, James Wood, Potomac and Woodbridge, during the season. It is no wonder that a team of their caliber went so far.

Several of the players received special recognition. Captains: Seniors Terry Hosier, Dana Caddy, Junior Debbie Long. 1st Team All District: Terry Hosier, Senior Michelle McClure, Dana Caddy. 2nd Team All District: Debbie Long, Sophomore Stephanie Hosier. 1st Team All Region: Terry Hosier, Michelle McClure. 2nd Team All Region: Dana Caddy. Honorable Mention: Sophomore Alicia Drago, Senior Barbie Sprinkle. All Metropolitan: Terry Hosier. MVP: Terry Hosier.

Junior Alicia Drago attempts to bunt but closes her eyes to a low pitch.

"Alright!" exclaims sophomore Teresa Lewis after hitting a homer.

"Oh no, looks like I'm really gonna have to hustle for this one," thinks junior Debbie Long.

Teamwork and Cooperation

At the beginning of the Junior Varsity Softball season, Coach Steve Wilson said his goal was for the girls to have a learning experience. He feels that the majority of them did together; they worked as a unit."

Superstitions were a part of the team's game plans for boosting moral. Before each game the team members would pick a word that Mr. Wilson might say during the game and when he said that girls would yell in unison. Yelling was good for team but Mr. Wilson had his own special way of venting his frustrations. He crushed styro-foam cups.

Mr. Wilson felt that the overall season was average but a good learning experience. The most memorable game of the year was the last game of the season against Woodbridge. "I got efforts beyond one hundred percent from the girls."

Rachelle Gable takes a wild swing at a Woodbridge foul ball.

With athletic ease and grace, Heather Fullinwider releases a fast pitch.

Just a Kick in the Grass

Going in to block a kick is Pat Castel.

Pat Castel is amazed by the kicking ability of John Palmer.

The Varsity Soccer Team started off slow but made up for it towards the end. Coach Rudy Zimmerman says "The team had a strong defense with goalie Steve Thompson, but a weak offense." With a lot of returning experienced players the team was able to defeat our rival Woodbridge Senior High at home on May 8 with a 1-0 victory.

Player Ricky Phillips says "The team's most memorable game was against Osbourn Park on April 14 in which we were defeated 0-2. The hardest game was against Stonewall Jackson on April 21 in which we also lost 1-2." Despite these few losses the team had a great season with seven wins, four losses, and one tie.

Most Valuable Player Awards were given to Steve Thompson, followed by Shane Smith as full back, John Palmer as half back, and forward as Ricky Phillips. The Most Improved Player Award was given to Joey Witzgall.

Go For the Goal

The tryouts for Junior Varsity Soccer this year were small. The 18 who were chosen out of the 25 who tried out were filled with a lot of potential. Most of the players got experience in playing the game from community soccer leagues.

Their season record was six wins, six losses. Two games were forfeited lowering the record to four wins, six losses. "This is one of the best groups we've had yet," stated Coach Chris Aleo, "they are very hard working."

With some assistance from sophomore Kevin McMahon, Bobby White takes the ball away from the opponent.

JUST FOR KICKS

The Varsity Soccer Team ended their season with a 3-4 record. The team's leading scorers were Shelia Bowen (nine goals), and Dana Cooper (five goals). While Kim Dormstetter lead the team with four assists. With a hard season also came some reward, Shelia Bowen made the First Team All District.

Tryouts lasted five days, working from 2:15 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. everyday. There were 45 girls that tried out for 20 varsity spots.

The two trophies given at the end of the season were to Beth Deitz for Most Valuable Player, and Kim Dormstetter as Most Improved Player.

Numerous strategy sessions guarantee Coach Mickie Sullivan a winning team.

The leaders of the pack: Dana Cooper, Leah Snediker and Shelia Bowen pump up the team before facing their opponent.

Booting the ball takes concentration and form as demonstrated here by Shelia Bowen.

The intent looks from Janet Clegg and Donna Cappel characterize the attitude of the team.

Michelle Richardson dribbles the ball downfield.

Kickin' Back

Soccer Team were to win and have fun. Their strengths were in the defense, full and half backs overall were good. In the offense, however, there was inconsistency and injuries. It was never the same people playing the same position and patch work had to be done. The hardest team to play was Woodbridge, but "we weren't afraid," says Coach Marty Riddle. To psyche themselves up Coach

Riddle says that silent concentration was the best. Not allowing the team to talk on the bus to away games worked and the team played well. The most memorable game was the victory over Potomac (2-1). The two goals were made in the first ten minutes of the game. Coach Riddle says that he was really impressed on the way the girls played this year and that they did well.

"Is It Tea Time or Tee Time"

Putting green, tee box, driving range, and par 5 are just a few of the terms one must learn in order to begin to understand the game of golf. The Golf Team, comprised totally of underclassmen, knows these specialized terms quite well. Unlike sports such as football or basketball where fields and courts are readily available on school grounds for players to practice and play games on, the members of the golf team must always travel off school grounds in order to practice or play matches. Since each golf course is laid out differently players must practice frequently on each different golf course in order to get a feel for the layout of each course and plan their overall "course management." According to Coach Jim Artz planning "course management" is what the team needed to work on most this season. Knowing what club to use for the type of yardage they wanted to achieve when teeing off or whether to use a right or left side approach shot and most important reaching the green in regulation are some of the management strategies the team needed to improve upon. It takes strength and stamina to play golf. The team competes on an 18 hole golf course which equals a minimum of three miles of walking while carrying a golf bag and clubs.

Remember to keep your head down and follow through with a nice smooth swing instructs Coach Jim Artz to junior Philip Higgs.

Using his putter on the 5th green of the Montclair Country Club Golf Course, sophomore David Bailey attempts to make the 5th hole.

Byron Petrauskas prepares his strategy for lining up his putt on the 10th green at the Quantico Golf Course.

All professional golfers like Jason Seifried practice on the putting green before teeing off.

With driver in hand, sophomore Dennis Krell tries to determine if he should try a right side or left side approach shot.

A quick strategy meeting is held on the 1st tee by Claude Barfield, Jason Seifried, David Bailey, and Brett Templeton.

Sometimes it can get pretty lonely out on a golf course especially if your Brett Templeton and your searching for your ball.

Determined & Striving To Be The Best

For the past eight years, the Girl's Tennis Team has been a winning team; winning Districts four times and getting second place the other four years. This year was no exception, as the team finished in second place, losing only to Woodbridge. It is amazing that at the beginning of the year, the Potomac News predicted that the team would finish fifth. "Every year they underestimate us," says freshman Chrissy White.

"At the beginning they thought that everyone was better than us. 'We knew we could do it,' confidently adds sophomore Jessica Williams. Coach Nancy White sat her team down and had a discussion with them right at the start of the season. She told them that they could either relax and have a fun season, or they could work hard and try to be the best. "They wanted to work. They wanted me to holler at them, work them," explains Coach White. So holler she did. The team stayed on the courts long after other teams were home. Senior Lisa Ward, Most Valuable Player, hollered often, too. "Lisa cared the most. She gave us conditioning treatments like running and sit-ups that made us be able to get to the balls faster," says Jessica. She continues, "Those workouts really helped us to play better."

Senior Jenny Miller states, "We all made the decision to go all the way... we wanted to prove to everyone we were good. We did just that."

Bump, Set, Spike!

Spiking the ball to the Stonewall line, senior Shawn Engle tries to earn another point for her team.

Going airborne, junior Angie Andrews blocks a spike from the Woodbridge front line.

The Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team had only one returning player this year, senior Shawn Engle. Coach Mickie Sullivan brought up seven girls from last year's junior varsity squad to complete the team. Voted Most Valuable Player, Shawn feels that this season "was a hard year, but it was due to the inexperience. I am positive the team will be ready next year."

Although the girls did not make it into the top four teams for the tournament, junior Stephanie Hosier feels that they will be ready next year. "We really had problems with it being our first year (on the varsity level). Next year we will definitely improve."

Coach Sullivan adds that the team really worked well together and that they earned the trust and respect of one another. She feels that "next year they'll be a serious threat."

After she bumped the ball to the front line, senior Jill Shrieve watches her team as they follow through.

With precise movement, senior Jill Shrieve gets under the ball in order to return the volley.

7-3 was the record for the Junior Varsity Volleyball Team this past season with freshman Tara Thompson as the most valuable player. "I do admit it was a hard season," Tara says, "but we got our stuff together and really started working together."

Coach Ed Johnson said that the words: "Determination, Spirit, Heart, and Desire" carried the team through a winning season. Junior Terri Mathewson said that Coach Johnson was fun at times but serious at other to work with. She says "Being out there wasn't all work. It was a combination of both work and play to make the season enjoyable."

The team's victories were described as heart stopping and come-from-behind types of games. Those victories applied to games in the third match. The team had succeeded in defeating team's Woodbridge and Fauquier the second go around. Overall the opinion was that more could have been put into the practices and games but it was a successful season.

Bumping to New Heights

As the season ended, the Girl's Freshman Volleyball Team finished third in the district. Compared to past years, the team was physically smaller than teams years before. "The team was hot and cold during the season," Coach Joe Wheeler comments. "At times we played as well as any team in the district."

Commenting about freshman players Kathy Khrushev, Regina McCarthy, and Becky Bunn, Mr. Wheeler felt that those players showed the ability to play at a varsity level. "We did good." Freshman Tracy McCloud adds, "Our team was on and off during the season but we'll be ready for them next year."

Near the end of the playing season, the team improved due to more practices and from the experience of tough competition. At the awards banquet, Kathy Khrushev was honored as Most Valuable Player.

Striving For Excellence

Running for the Gold

To be a member of the Boys Cross Country Team you have to be a very dedicated and self-motivated person. Running takes a lot of practice and hard work. That is where motivation and dedication come into play. The team started practicing and getting ready for the upcoming season in beginning to mid-August. That practice included weight training and running every morning to get in shape. In July, some of the team members attend a Blue Ridge Running Camp where they can refine their skills.

This year's team was undefeated and placed 2nd in Districts. Senior Thomas Brandt placed 5th and junior Joseph Brazil placed 7th. After their outstanding performance in Districts at Great Meadows the team went to Regionals which were held at U.Va. where Thomas Brandt placed 4th and Joseph Brazil placed 9th. Overall the team placed 2nd. This qualified the team to go to State also held at U.Va. where they subsequently placed 9th. This was the best season for the Boys Cross Country team since 1973.

Reved Up

This was a disappointing year for the Girls Cross Country Team. This season Districts were held at Great Meadows. Junior Hope Pickett placed 13th which qualified her for Regionals and the team placed in the top ten. Unfortunately, their ranking was not high enough to qualify them for Regional competition at U.Va. However at Regionals, Hope placed 17th. The team was unable to advance to State competition since they did not compete in Regionals.

Getting in shape are freshmen Lisa Bohuslar and Nicole Hiatt.

Offensive line coach Marty Riddle always made sure his part of the team knew exactly what they were doing before they went out on the field for the next play.

Hard Times Are Here!

Times were rough for the Varsity Football Team. The season had its ups and downs. The biggest "up" for the team was the game against Potomac on October 23. Although the win was an important, and big one, it wasn't easy. Coach Chris Courtney explains. "They are a traditional rivalry, and they were in the playoff picture. In previous games, they had gotten a lot of yardage on offense, but we held them to only 122 yards." Another traditional rivalry, even bigger than G-F vs. Potomac, is the G-F vs. Woodbridge game. The Woodbridge game is the game Coach Courtney considers to be the hardest game. "It was a let down for all of us. We were on a three game winning streak, and we didn't do two things. We didn't stop their offense, and when we had the ball, we didn't move it."

Many students were surprised when they found out that the team was going to play someone new this year, Oxon Hill High School from Maryland. The team played hard and even though the game was played before school had officially started, the fans were there to support the team. It was a hard fought game, but in the end, Oxon Hill pulled away to win. "We could have beat them. We were on the two or three yard line a couple of times and we didn't score. If we had beat them, I think the season would have turned out differently." says quarterback Bernie Dombrowski.

"Oh come on!" By the look on Glenn Baucom's face you would guess that the "Devastation Crew" wasn't being to devastating at the moment. They were defeated 13-0 by Stafford.

Even though the team didn't have the best season in the world, they certainly did well in the academic area. Every year, the County Board of Supervisors presents an award to the team member with the highest grade point average. This years recipient was defensive back Anthony Tuggle, who had a g.p.a. of 3.967. Other awards were also handed out, such as the Billy Joe Mulgrew Award (based on citizenship, leadership, academics and athletics) which was received by quarterback Bernie Dombrowski. The recipient of the Most Improved Player Award (given out to juniors only) was offensive tackle Kenny Clark. Other M.V.P.'s included Glenn Baucom for offense, Greg Simcic for defense and overall M.V.P. Chris Galloway. This year, even though the team had a difficult time because of their "youth and inexperience", they had a educational experience.

Tough Team

They Stuck
Together
Through Thick

...and through a 2-8 season. The Junior Varsity Football Team practiced many long hours after school and on Saturdays. Most practices ran for 4 or 5 hours of stretching out, running, blocking, passing, kicking, and scrimmageing, but as Chris Pierce said, "We had alot of practice, but it just didn't pay off in the game." Over 40 students tried out for the team but only 30 of them made the team, 19 of which were returning from the year before.

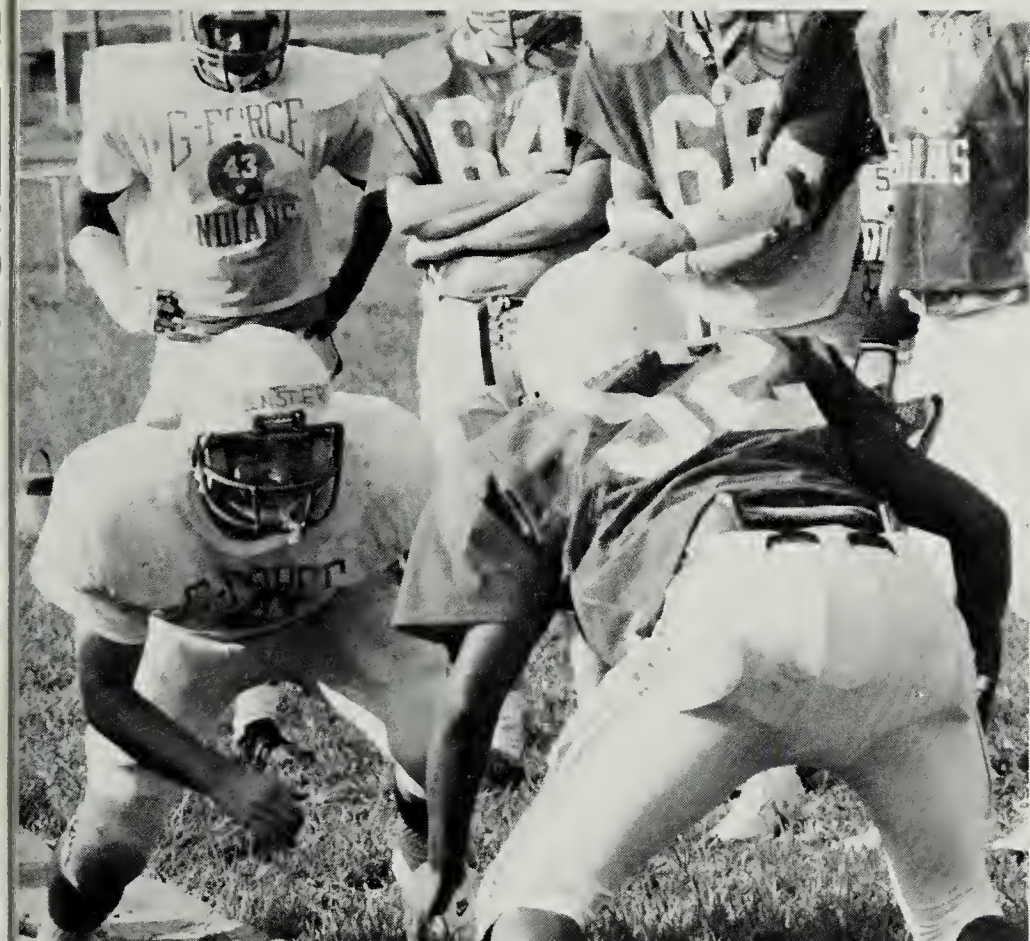

The main goal of Coach Paul Barrett and Coach Marty Riddle was to prepare the players for the varsity team next year. Lack of game experience was the major weakness of the team, but as some players got enough experience, such as Robert Jackson, they were moved up to the varsity level.

As he views the action on the field sophomore Mike Jones thinks of an alternate plan of action for the game against Stonewall.

Coach Barrett and Coach Labozzetta watch a perfectly executed offensive play from the sidelines during the game against Fauquier.

Holding Their Own

We Didn't
Have Much
SIZE
But We Were Very Aggressive
--Coach
Bell

The Freshmen Football season started well with their victory over Osbourn Park. They had five shut-outs in eight games and gave up only fifteen points within those eight games. Their strength was in their defense. Their biggest weakness was that they didn't have much size, but they were very aggressive. "The most difficult game was against Potomac, because they were undefeated," stated Coach Larry Bell. They proved to be very formidable though when they only gave up six points to Courtland and got two points for themselves; in one of the few games they lost. The coaches were Larry Bell, a Gar-Field science teacher, and Clayton Wark, a sixth grade teacher from Godwin Middle School. Wark coached football for six years and helped coach Gar-Field's Indoor Track Team last year. According to Coach Wark this years team was "a good bunch of kids who worked well together as a team, and were very determined to win." The season started with fifty three players but had dwindled down to forty five by the end of the season.

The M.V.P. of the season was starting tight end and nose guard Mike Gorkowski.

The first game of the season was against Osbourn Park and held at Garfield. Maurice Winston (32) and Latroy Askew (28) run to tackle the opponent, while Derek Cail (31), just missing the Osbourn Park player, watches his team mates finish the play.

Freshmen quarterback Todd Bell (4), narrowly escapes the Osbourn Park player while looking for someone to pass the ball to.

Punting the ball off to James Wood High School, Courteny Newkirk (87) shows off his kicking talents.

Racing to intercept a pass from the Osbourn Park player is Mike Gorkowski 86, a starting tightend and nose guard, also M.V.P. for the season.

To say that the Varsity Basketball Team had a successful season would be an understatement. They started out a little shaky, but then started doing what they do best: WINNING!

The team had a slow start at the beginning of the season, starting off with a record of 0-2. With only two varsity players returning, the team was not as experienced as most. Because of that, Coach Larry Bell found that coaching the team wasn't easy. "This has been my most difficult year because all of the players are so young and inexperienced. I have had to prepare more for these games than any other year," said Coach Bell. All of the preparation paid off because the boys began playing like a winning team with a winning attitude. Guard Jack Martin agrees, "Watching each of us mature into better players gave us the winning attitude."

The team had problems like most teams, but they weren't major. Coach Bell believes that their biggest disadvantage was their height. He said, "We are tiny. Other teams could beat us on the boards." Center Chuck McCullough agrees, "Our greatest weakness is our height because most of the team is under 6'4" which makes us have to work harder under the boards." Of course, there's always the joker who thinks that their problems didn't even occur on the court. Jack Martin believes that the team's weaknesses were "those long cramped up rides on 'Old Yeller' to and from James Wood and Fauquier." Whatever the case may be, the boys managed to overcome their weaknesses by out-weighting them with their strengths.

A variety of factors have contributed to the team's strengths. Center Vince Garrett said, "We've got great outside shooting ability, but once we get the ball inside it's all over for the opponent." Chuck McCullough agrees with Vince about their shooting ability, but also believes that they have a strong defense. Coach Bell said, "We play good defense. We are an excellent fastbreak team." The boys have also grown considerably as a team. Jack Martin explains, "We all pushed each other to keep on improving individually and as a team."

There have been many highlights that have made this an exciting season for everyone. All agree that beating Potomac (75-73) at "Our House" was a great win, avenging the 67-69 loss at the beginning of the season. Other great games were Fauquier at Gar-Field (95-69) and Gar-Field at Stonewall (87-77).

The force behind any team is the coaching staff. The coaches of the Varsity Basketball Team are Head Coach Larry Bell, Assistant Coach David Lawrence, and JV Coach Melvin Cheshire. Jack Martin said, "All of the goals that we accomplished as a team and as individuals wouldn't have happened without the coaching of Mr. Bell, Mr. Cheshire, and Mr. Lawrence."

The Varsity Basketball Team has been rewarded with both good coaches and a fine season. They have improved and matured together to become one of the best teams that Gar-Field has produced. Summing up what this year has been all about, Vince Garrett said, "As our coach would put it, 'We are a great team all of the time!'"

Reaching great heights, forward Kenny Scroggins charges in for a basket during the Stonewall Jackson game.

Creating a virtually impenetrable wall, Vince Garrett makes sure that nobody gets by him.

Admired and respected by the members of the basketball team, Coach Larry Bell is known for giving valuable lessons off the court as well as on the court.

SINK IT!

Sink It Real Good!

The Junior Varsity Basketball team played an excellent season with thirteen wins and only five loses. Defense was the team's strong point throughout the season. Coach Melvin Cheshire used this as their strategy, because "the best offense is a good defense". After tryouts were over, the team began practicing after school every school day and sometimes on weekends. They warmed up with layups, jump shots and free throws. Then the team would play practice games against each other. Coach Cheshire's main goal of the year was to prepare the players for the varsity team next year, and too give them game experience. The team was lead in scoring by sophomore Jeff Parker. By looking at statistics and their season record, one can see that all their practice paid off.

Determination and Dedication

The Boys Freshmen Basketball Team had a very good season this year, winning 10 games and losing just 4. Thirty-five boys tried out for the team, but unfortunately only thirteen people can be on the team. The highlight of the season was the two point win over Stonewall Jackson the second time we played them. Stonewall had not lost a game in three years and beat Gar-Field by eleven points the first time we played them. The most difficult game of the season was the game against arch rival Woodbridge on our own home turf. They made six points in less than one minute to come from behind and send the game into over time. When asked what the easiest game of the season was Coach Chris Courtney replied "No game is easy, we made every game exciting." What were the teams greatest strengths and weaknesses? "The greatest strength of the team was their desire to succeed, teamwork, and a great defense. Their greatest weakness Pepperoni Pizza."

Exceptional

...they played beyond
their rank

With only five returning players, of which only two were starting players, the Girls Varsity Basketball Team has had an exceptional season. "We had a young team," explained Coach Fred Milbert. "We gained experience as the season went on."

Overall, the season was a successful one for the team. "We were a lot better than what was ever expected," said Coach

Milbert.

One of the high points of the season happened when Gar-Field beat Osbourn Park 53-40. Another high point occurred when Gar-Field lost only to Woodbridge in the finals of the annual Gar-Field Invitational, held December 28-30. "Next year we'll win it, we'll have to," states junior guard Kathy Saplak. "It seems like we always lose to Woodbridge."

Gar-Field had two players make the District Tournament Team: junior Jackie Carter and freshman Charleata Beale made the first team, and senior Lara Powell received Honorable Mention. Jackie was also voted Most Valuable Player by the district coaches.

At the end of the regular season, there was a three-way tie for first place, so a tournament was held to determine who would be Commonwealth District champions.

Gar-Field soundly defeated Stafford and Osbourn Park, but then lost in the finals to Woodbridge, but the team ended second in the district and gained a place in the Regional Tournament.

An Offbeat Season

Diving for the loose ball, Susie Touset leads the pack to gain control for Gar-Field.

Giving it her all, Lindsay Mast tries to score another two points for Gar-Field with a lay-up against Seton.

Trapped between the opposition, Nikki Hielt looks for a way out to pass the ball to one of her teammates.

Junior Varsity Basketball Team -- Front Row: Susie Touset (10), Veronica Ko (10), Mary Reagan (11), Andrea Bogger (10), Audra Weber (9), Beth Sunderland (11), April Haslacker (9), and Lindsay Mast (11). Back Row: Manager Tommy Mullins (10), Manager Michelle Marsh (11), Jinger Gorder (10), Tiffany Hawthorne (10), Nikki Hielt (9), Laura Giese (10), Traci Carrano (9), and Coach Marty Riddle.

Looking at the scoreboard for the Junior Varsity Basketball's season doesn't begin to tell the story. It says that the team's record was six wins and eleven losses, but what it doesn't say is that the girls played a tough defense, only giving up an average of 29 points per game. Coach Marty Riddle remarked that their greatest strength was "the great individual and team defense that we played." Coach Riddle believes that the defense was an asset to the rest of their playing game. "It helped us in our transition game alot, which was good because our half court offense was not as strong as our fast break offense."

About twenty girls tried out for the team, with thirteen girls making it. They were a relatively young team and because of that they had some problems. One of their weaknesses was their lack of shooting ability. Coach Riddle explained that on this level of basketball, most teams sit in a zone and make you shoot from the outside. Because of the team's youth and inexperience, this gave them alot of problems. What the team lacked in the offense, they more than made up for in the defense. Coach Riddle thinks that the highlights of the season were playing tough and hard nosed person to person defense. With more improvement in their offense and continuing success in their defense, next year's team will be one to be reckoned with.

Struggling for possession, Foward Nikki Hielt gains control of the ball for Gar-Field during the North Stafford game.

Playing her best, Foward Traci Carrano goes for the basket with a jump shot against Seton.

Shooting from under the boards, Traci Carrano tries to score another two points against North Stafford.

Using hand signals known only to his team, Coach Marty Riddle explains the new strategy to April Haslacker and Audra Weber to use in the next period.

and Reaching for the Stars

Coaching the Girls Freshman Basketball Team is different from that of coaching a junior varsity or varsity squad. When working with the latter teams the coach has girls which have played high school ball and know what is expected of them. However, the freshman coach is working with girls who have maybe played some middle school basketball but from different schools. These girls have never worked or practiced together as a team.

This year is Coach Kelly Deegan's first time coaching basketball. "I chose to coach because a coach was needed and I like basketball." When asked "Which game was the most memorable for you and the team?" Coach Deegan replied, "The game against Potomac because it was our first win and we beat them by a lot." One of the more difficult games for the team was their heart wrenching loss to Stonewall Jackson. The team played great defense and offense however they still lost by 1 hard fought point.

Jeanine Castro desperately tries to distract her opponent from shooting.

Guarding their opponent tightly are Rebecca Bunn, and Kimberly Jenkins.

Looking to pass to a teammate before the opposition arrives is Kimberly Jenkins.

The Indoor Track Team ended its' season with a total of 53 points in the District meet, giving Gar-Field a fourth place finish. Also, eight runners represented Gar-Field at Regionals, and six of those runners moved on to the State competition.

Events that were the strongest for Gar-Field this year included the shot put, the high jump, and the 800 meter run. The team began practice in November, and meets started in December. Coach Clyde Hoy states, "We like to schedule as many meets as possible, and they're usually on the weekends. It means a lot of travel, and the runners have to sacrifice a lot."

Stretching before practice, James Little warms up for the hard workout that awaits him.

Throws like these allowed Chris Houston to place fifth in the District.

Set a Fast Pace!

The Boys Indoor Track Team ended their season on a fairly good note. Gar-Field finished fourth in the District, and sent six runners to State Competition at George Mason University.

Coach Clyde Hoy states, "For what we had out, we did good. We worked hard." The team is composed of cross country runners, outdoor track runners, and athletes from other sports. Although the team faced hardships in the form of injuries and departures, the season was an overall success.

Key members this year included Tom Brandt, Kerry Merritt, Dennis Toole, David Washington, Joe Brazil, and Jason Hedley.

Weighty Goals

Struggling to stay on top Danny Short at 138 fights all the way to keep the advantage over his Woodbridge Viking opponent.

Overpowering his opponent at 185 Greg Simcic goes on to win and continues to be undefeated in his weight class.

Wrestling as a heavy weight, Glen Baucom has his hands full against his opponent from Hayfield.

It looks like another easy pin for Mike Revels at 105 against Woodbridge.

The dominating Phil Sykes surprises everyone and does a magnificent job at 126.

Using all of his strength Butch Eicher at 132 puts all of his wrestling abilities into play.

There was no one stopping this team who finished with a 9-0 record. The toughest match was against Woodbridge. It was good vs. good. We matched up well, but still managed to defeat our rivals, the Woodbridge Vikings with a 32-25 victory. The easiest match was against Osbourn Park (67-3) who only won one match all season.

At his best was Kevin Haller who won the Marshall Christmas Tournament, Commonwealth District and Regional Championships, and finished with a 17-0 record. The team as a whole placed third in Districts, fourth in Regionals, and in the top 20 in State competition.

The biggest surprise came from freshman Phil Sykes at 126. There were only two freshman in the District Tournaments and Phil was one of them. He was the only freshman to place in Districts since Mark Dobash in 1984.

When asked what his goals were for the season Kenny Kerr replied, "At the beginning of the season I wanted to be first or second in the District. I also wanted to place first - forth at Regionals so I could go to the State Tournament." His record was 18-5. The fastest time he ever pinned someone in was 18 seconds.

"We had alot of Seniors on the team. I am happy because we did well and had a strong season," said Coach Tom Legge.

Making it look like childs play Kenny Kerr at 145 remains undefeated in the Commonwealth.

Newcomer to the team John Joseph at 176 shows how hard it really is to stay on top.

Starting out on the right foot by winning the first two matches and tying the third, gave us a view of how the season would turn out.

The Osbourn Park match really psyched the team up and they went on to win by a score of 70-6. "The Osbourn Park team was inexperienced and didn't do well," said Coach Joe Wheeler.

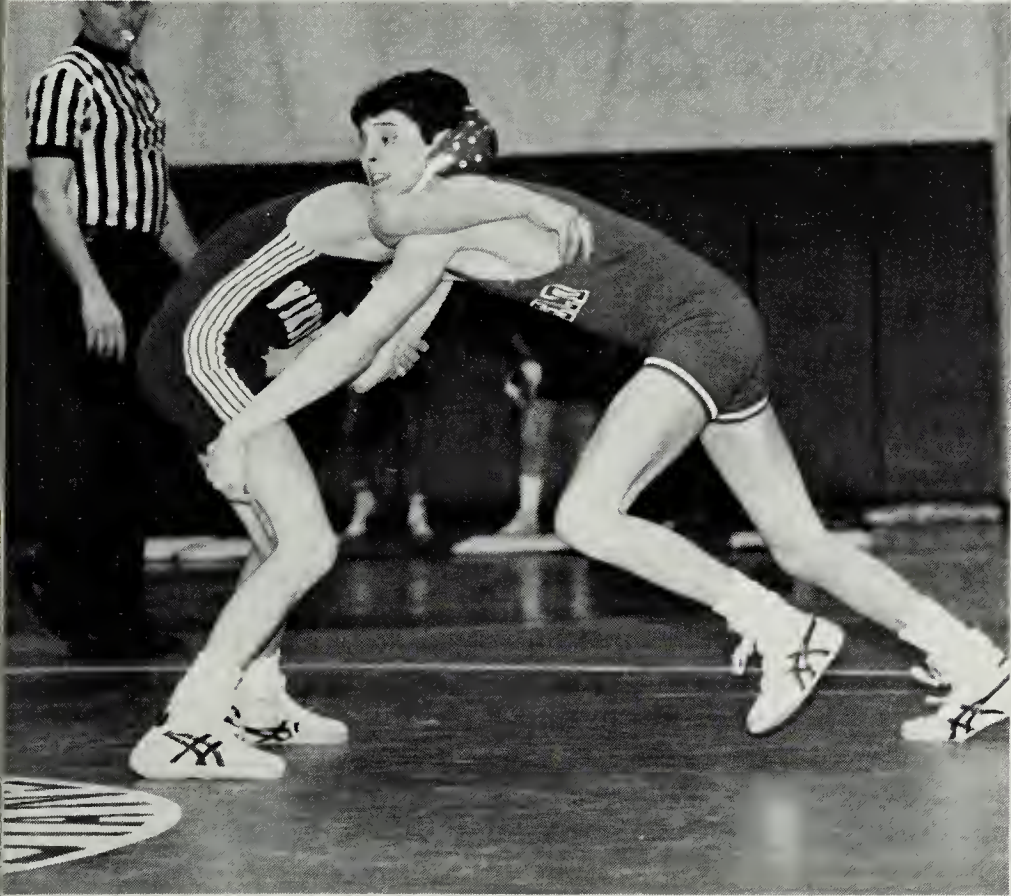

The team captains were Anthony Gamboa, Sean Martin, and Steve Hughes. The two that improved the most throughout the season were Brian Silvis who had never wrestled before and Anthony Gamboa. There were a few that were able to move up to the varsity wrestling level during the season. Those individuals were Phil Sykes, Dennis Short, and Brian Silvis who competed in a few matches.

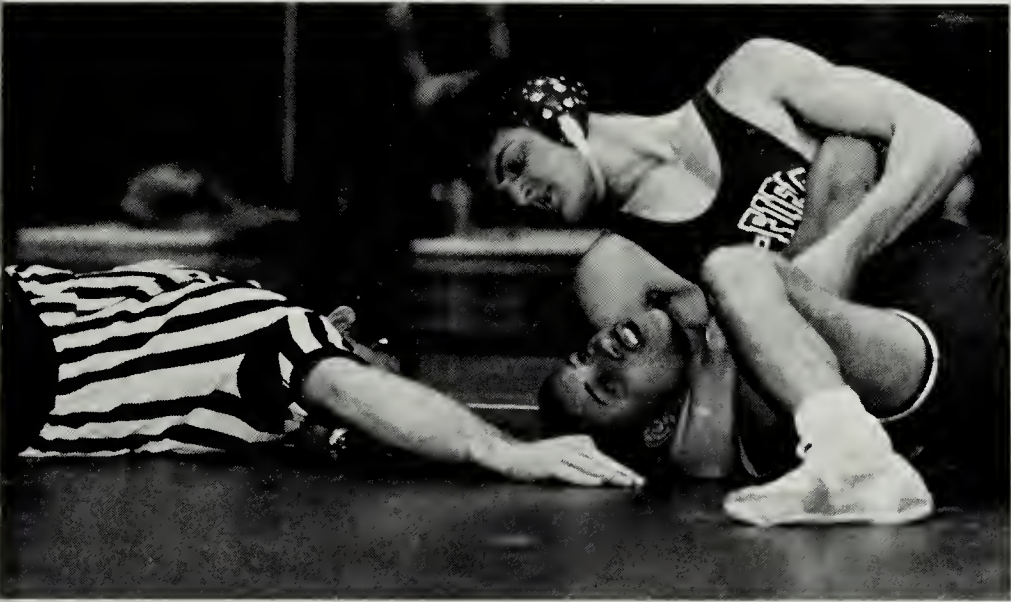

Having a good grip on the situation Keith Green at 126 uses all of his strength to keep his opponent pinned.

Being quick to start things off Brian Silvis at 98 gets a jump on things.

Holding his opponent in a nice firm head lock Mike Vito at 119 waits for the referee to call it.

Pausing to regain her balance, all-around athlete Tracy Chopin continues her routine on the balance beam.

Achieving Fame

This season, the Gymnastics Team could not achieve fame because it was not possible for the team to place in any of their meets. In order to receive a team score, three scores in an event are put together. This year, not every event had three gymnasts performing in them. Gar-Field only had two all-around gymnasts, juniors Tracy Chopin and Julie Moore. Unfortunately not all of the other gymnasts could perform in all of the events. Although the team practiced from two until four every day after school, listening to music, making up and practicing their routines, other factors affected the team's performance. Says Kela Gibson, "Not all of us belong to private gyms where we can practice, and a lot of times I'd only do my routine once before a meet because every place to practice here at school was being used."

Coach Mickie Sullivan sums up the teams overall attitude by saying, "We weren't too worried about the team score; we worked more towards individual efforts."

Holding steady on the balance beam, all-around athlete Tracy Chopin performs her routine for the judges.

Cheering Up

Jennifer Snyder observes carefully as Natalie Migliorini demonstrates a complicated step in a cheer.

Most people probably think that cheerleading is all fun and games. Not true! There has been a misconception that all there is to cheerleading is getting to wear cute little uniforms and going to all of the games. A lot of hard work is put into making the three squads the best they can be, and they deserve more credit than they receive. Tryouts were held in April, but additional tryouts were held in September to fill vacancies. Cheerleaders go to summer camp where they compete against other squads. They also have to prepare for competition at Kings Dominion in the spring. They practice twice a week and before every game. They have to maintain a 2.0 grade point average to remain on the squad. Not only do they cheer the teams on at the games, but they also bake goodies for the players on important game days. Cheerleaders decorate the players' lockers and give them candy and flowers to make sure they know that the school is behind them 100%. Cheerleaders have many responsibilities that come with the honor of being selected, but it all pays off when they are out there doing what they do best: Cheering for the Almighty Indians!

Cheering the crowd on at the first game of the season against Osbourn Park High School, Freshmen Cheerleaders Carmen Lewis, Amy Johnson, Catie Holstein, and Vallerie Tribble try their best to get the crowd psyched up.

Pleasing the crowd with a difficult pyramid during the Homecoming Football Game, Varsity Cheerleaders (clockwise, top to bottom) Kelly Wanamaker, Lisa Drotos, Lisette Rios, Jennifer Deringer, Natalie Grimm and Stephanie Tiller concentrate hard while making their pyramid the "tops".

During halftime at the Gar-Field Stonewall Jackson basketball game, Freshmen Kim Hall, Shannon Beale, and Amy Johnson prepare to start their routine.

JV cheerleaders Cindy Bowling, Kela Gibson, Jennifer Struder, Nicole Richards, and Amy Black perform a pyramid stunt for the Gar-Field fans during the Potomac game.

During a short break in the girls JV basketball game, Cindy Bowling, Jennifer McGrath, Nicole Richards, and Jennifer Struder perform a quick cheer to encourage the players.

During the Girls Varsity basketball game against North Stafford, Varsity cheerleaders Enid Imel and Stephanie Tiller exhibit that cheerleading can be as physically demanding as any other sport as they lift Lisa Drotos in a stunt.

Probing Minds

"Out of 50,000 moving things I'm supposed to find one lonely ameoba!" complains Ron Nesbith during Ms. Teresa Colletti Biology I class.

Are you curious about what makes a radio work? Or how about looking into what different liquids flow through your body? Questions upon questions demand answers from your mind everyday of the year and it's up to you to satisfy them.

The library is a prime source of information. With the addition of TOM (Text on Microform) and Circulation Plus, the online circulation system the library has truly entered the era of automation. Whether it is the bibliography for the term paper you have to turn in next period or the vital information necessary to complete your report for your science project, the librarians are there when you need them. "The library is so full of information on everything. You can get everything done there instead of going all over the city looking for it," says freshman Betty Fugate.

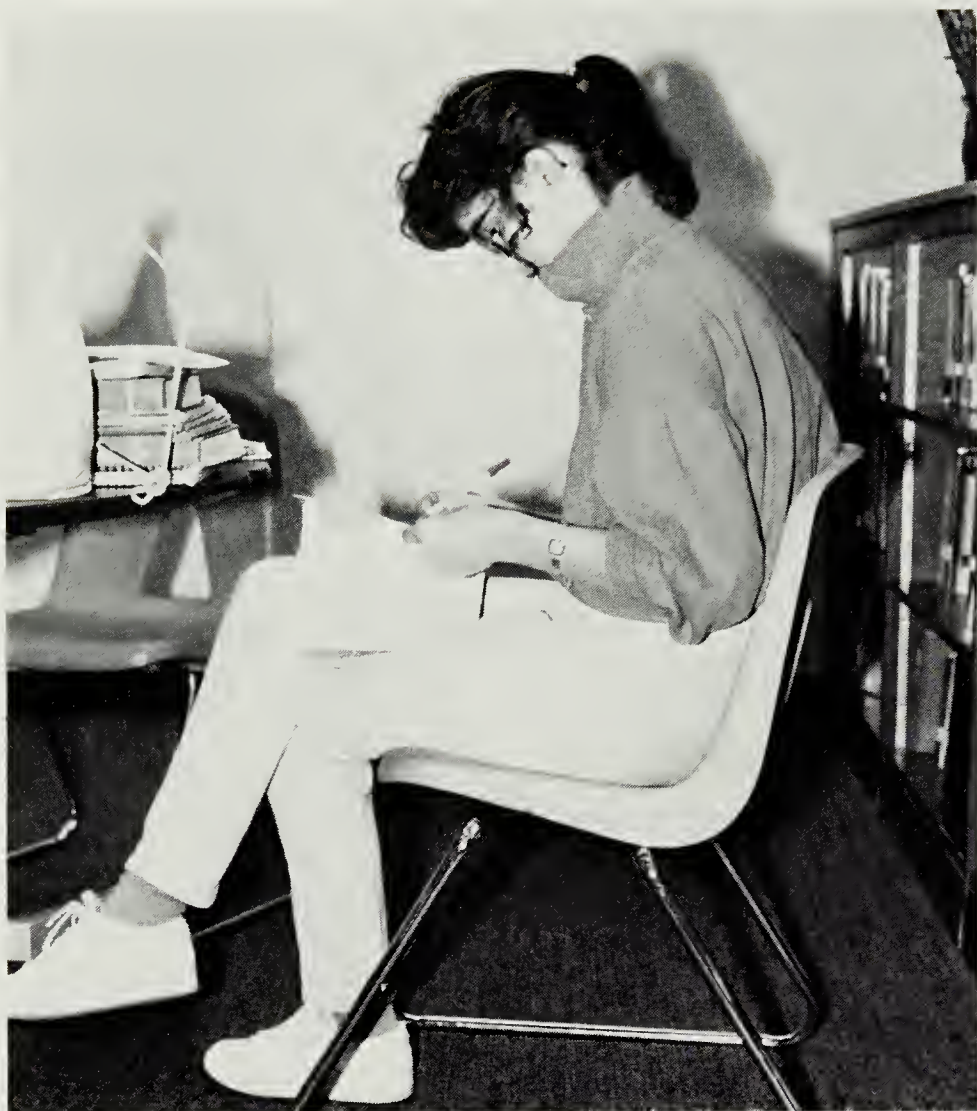

Solving the mysteries of volcanoes and what makes the world go around is the Science Department. Here the student body can become mad scientists in Chemistry and create a solution that will make water turn purple. In Biology I and II they can find out what makes a guinea pig or cat run. "It makes my day when a student of mine figures out how to work moles into an equation," says Chemistry teacher Ms. Joan Taylor.

Detecting what makes a radio work or what's behind a well fashioned piece of machinery, the Electronics students get a charge out of working with electricity. "It's so cool working with this stuff," says Junior David Parks, "I may even go into communications as a career."

"Are you sure you know what you're doing?" asks Diane Ondo of Trisha Swarthout as Trisha tries to light their bunsen burner.

Like the forefathers of colonial times, senior Tracy Johnson researches the workings of the Declaration of Independence.

"Oh what am I thinking? These are chemistry equations not algebra equations!" thinks senior Amy Shiflett.

Using TOM (Text on Microform) to find magazine sources for an upcoming feature article for the school newspaper are seniors Donny Sketo and Cindy Grove.

Prodding at his am radio kit, Junior Steve Weetman wonders if this project will be a success.

Junior David Parks attempts to assemble a disassembled am radio kit.

Kalleem Parish and Mark Bechton share their knowledge of electronics to add the finishing touches to another am radio kit.

The Write Way

No matter what you do in school, you just can't seem to get out of writing. Either it's writing down the prologue to the CANTERBURY TALES or exercises upon exercises on verb agreements. Writing is the right way to do things in English, Art, and Printing.

"When you write an essay in English class, your mind has a lot to say than just answering a teacher's question," says senior Tiffany Price.

Printing demands an extreme amount of writing, mostly with ink machines, pens, and markers. The printing students create different forms of writing on all sorts of surfaces. They create ink designs on mirrors and make pamphlets for the student body.

"We do work for people who come in and have us do specific jobs like press work, layouts, camera work, and typesetting," says senior Chris Affeldt.

Down in the Art Department, talented students create images of people, places, and things on paper. They use different forms of writing like steeple, a form of using dots and crosshatching, a method of crossing lines for shading. Besides drawing, there is also painting and interior design.

"Art class is my self expression class. I love to paint more so than to draw," says junior Sherri Harrington.

Adjusting the printing machines settings, juniors Gerald Gaylord and Daniel Williams prepare to print some words of wisdom.

Vocabulary = Words = Definitions easily sums up Robert Gorsuch's feelings at this moment in Ms. Jerlynn Gladney's English class as he puts pencil to paper to work on his assignment.

Swedish foreign exchange student Cecilia Tejler enjoyed reading and interpreting William Shakespeare's play Hamlet in Mr. Chuck Edwards' English class.

Around the World in 2 Semesters

Taking the oath for her right to vote as part of her American Government class, Senior Class President Emilia Cunha recites the pledge.

Hey you! Do you want to travel all around the world? And learn about different things? Also, do you want to meet new and exotic people? What?! No, don't join the Army! Enlist in a foreign language or history course.

Fly to France on the Concord. While you're there you can pick up bits and pieces of the language of love. Your knowledge of the geography of France from your study of World History can aid you in finding your way around to the wonderful art museums and historical landmarks.

Next on your travel plan is Spain. As you land in Madrid it all comes back to you from those intense Spanish classes. "Students are taking Spanish because of academic reasons as well as political," comments Spanish and French teacher Irene Kabler, "T.V. commercials and movies are using a great deal more foreign languages.

Ms. Martha ElNaggar passes out the forms for her students to fill out in order to participate in the foreign exchange program.

Thus exposing them to the prospects of taking foreign language."

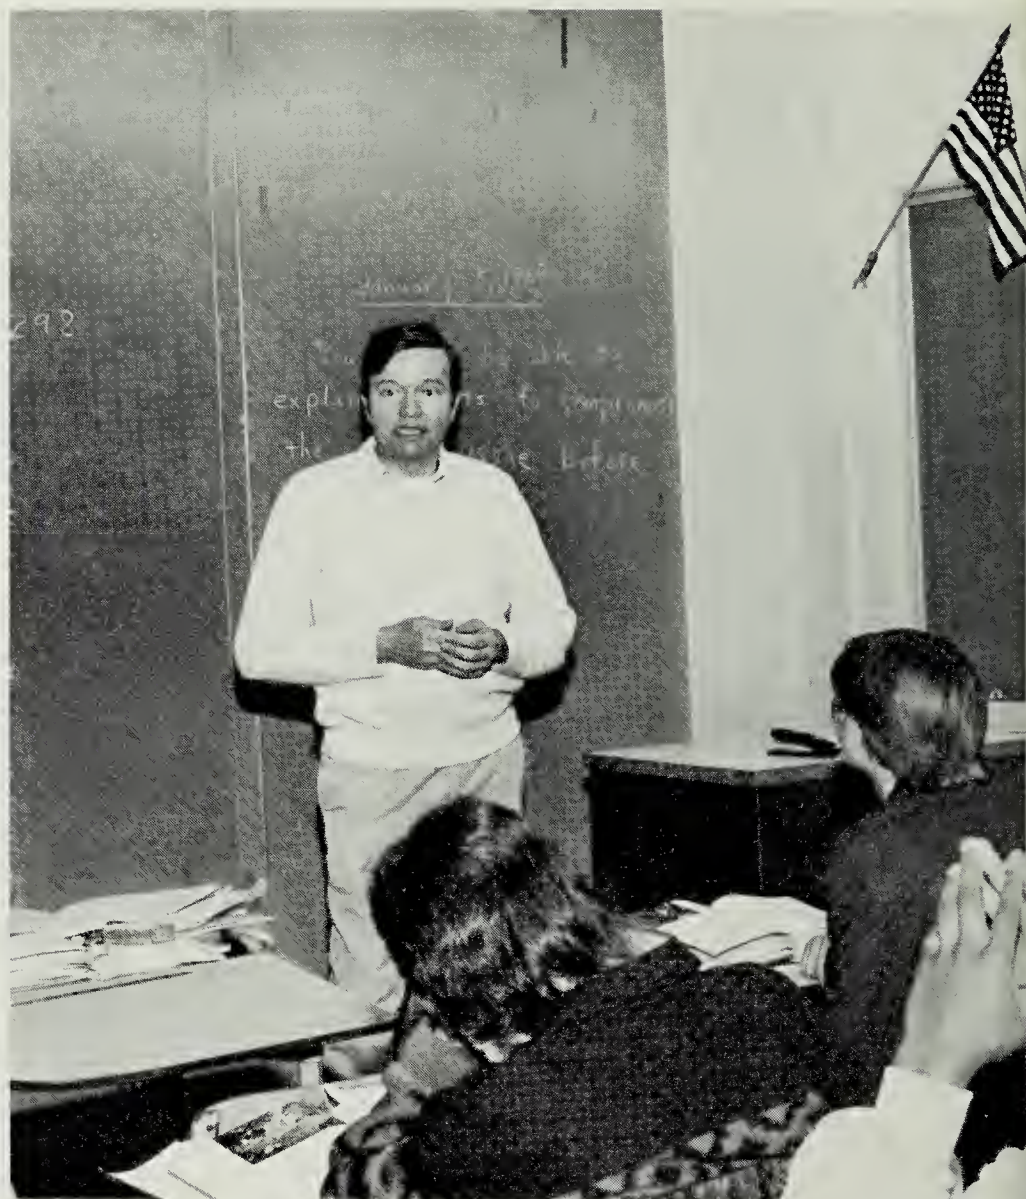

After your hispanic adventure you jump to Germany. "I had taken four years of German and wanted to get back into it," says junior Heather Clemmens.

Exiting Europe you have made a lot of friends whom are interested in learning English as a second language (ESL), "It's not optional like a foreign language. It's a good program helping foreign students learn English," explains senior Kay Lee.

Filling out her name and class period, Jennifer Jordan thus begins her Latin exam.

Explaining the motivations behind the Civil War, Mr. Steven Sawyer keeps his class interested by showing them the similarities to apartheid in South Africa.

Eyes wide open as answers materialize in ones mind, pages flipping to find textbook answers, and pencils scribbling notes about the presidents describes this scene of a typical day in history class.

Talented Hands

Setting the volleyball firmly into the palm of your hand is an action you perform in P.E. using your hands. You also use them in Home Economics to throw together a pineapple upside down cake. Your hands perform thousands of actions a day.

Auto shop students put together automotive parts to form an engine or perhaps a carburetor. In the case of some students, they work better with their hands.

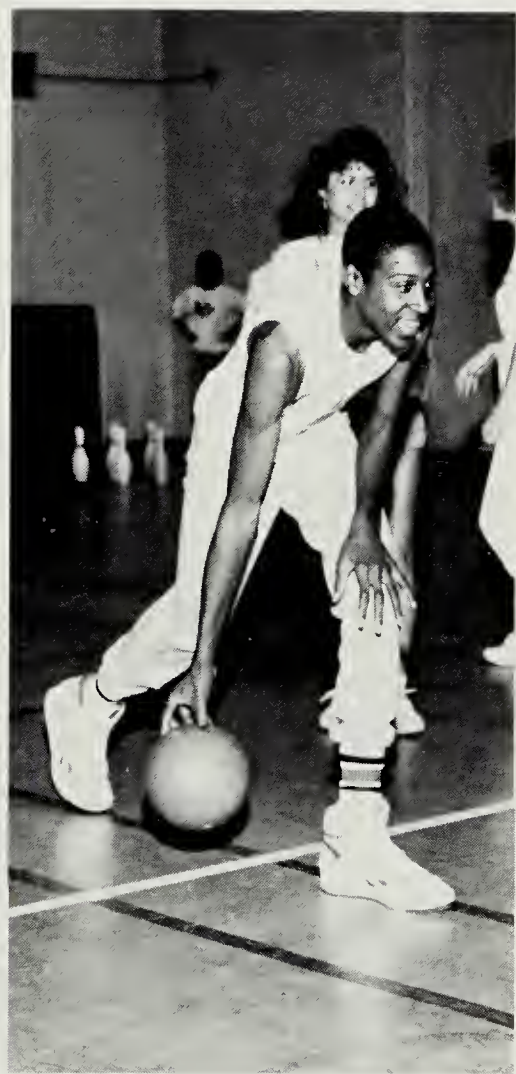

"Getting your hands dirty and greasy just happens when we start to really work in there. I like it better than just tests and quizzes," says senior Muhammid Malik. Cosmetology students work with a variety of beauty techniques all which involve their hands. They make up dummy heads with shampoos, perms, lipsticks, and different shades of eye shadows.

"I love working with my hands. It's fun making up new hairstyles," says Junior Tammy Kreiling.

Carefully easing the plywood into the saw, sophomore Chad Look tries not to saw his fingers off by observing all the safety precautions he has learned in shop.

Senior Patti Kibler tugs, clips, and pulls at the hair of her dummy head form to style it into something a little more contemporary.

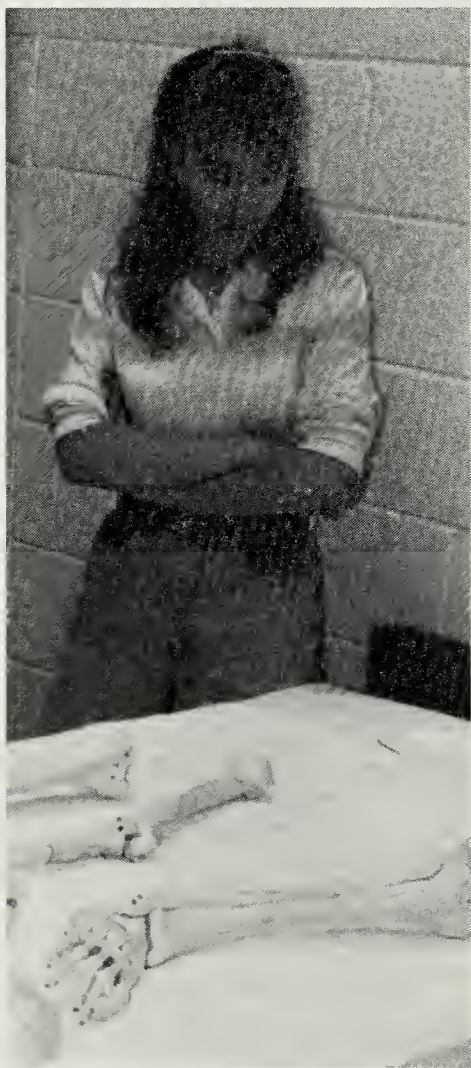

With the word "STRIKE" in his mind, Chauncey Wardrick releases his bowling ball.

Watching to see if she's repairing the carburetor correctly, Stewart Dean is ready to assist fellow classmate Dana Wakeman if she has a question.

Teaching her class about the bone structure of the human body, LPN teacher, Ms. Dawn Lewis holds up what appears to be a leg bone.

"Is this what I look like inside?" asks Brenda Towineau while learning about the human anatomy in LPN class.

Mr. Rudy Zimmerman shows freshmen, Colandra Johnson and Shakira Boyd the proper way to apply a bandage for a broken arm.

"I think I'll give her a jerry curl," senior Cindy Tucker thinks as she parts strands of hair on her dummy head.

Explaining the dangers and the precautions one should take when using the drill press, Mr. Ross Metts holds up a drill bit to support his point.

Performing front end alignments in auto shop class is only one of the many skills senior Dan Maddox has learned this year.

Peering into the delicacy of his work, William Saunders works in total concentration with his soldering iron.

The Keys Of Education

What do keys do? Well, of course you would say that keys are used to open doors mostly. Whether it be your front door at your house, car door, or the key to the stock room at your job. Keys unlock various things for us, even the doors of education.

In Chorus, song note keys are used all the time. Bar notes are used to sing at different levels for the right sound. Mrs. Debbie Moyers, Choral Director, could point her musical finger at you to sing an A key or B key in class.

"Singing and performing sure beats sitting behind a desk," says Dominants singer Jason Davis.

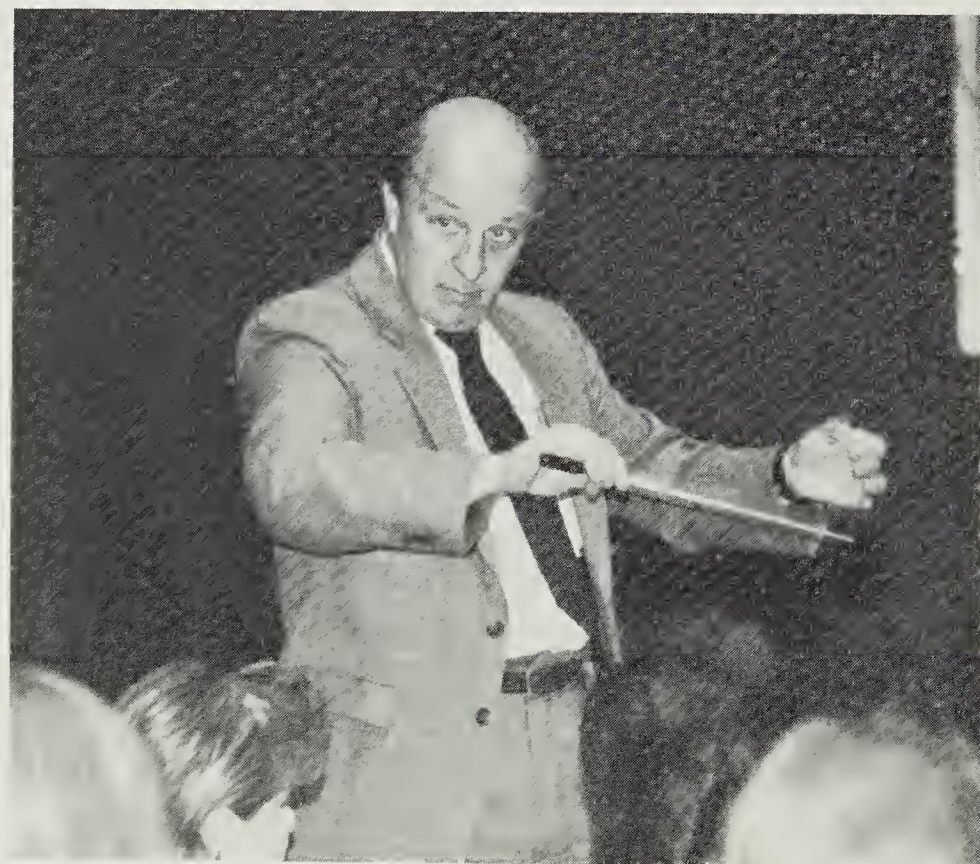

Sitting in Mr. Edgar Tucker's computer class you have just completed typing lines and lines of computer symbols and for the computer to process all this information, you press the "Enter" key.

"In Data Processing I students learn fundamental concepts and terminology and programming in BASIC," explains Data Processing teacher Mrs. Theresa McClure.

Students, while learning these concepts, terminologies, and languages press keys and keys of numbers and letters to get the correct printout. "In Data Processing II, we learn all about advanced accounting in COBOL," says senior Lawanda Benefield.

The blending of instrument keys to produce the musical sounds that are so pleasing to the ear, can be heard floating through the downstairs hallways. These sounds can only be coming from one set of rooms: The Band/Orchestra Room. Whether you like classical, jazz, rock, or new age music does not matter. It takes a fined tuned ear to play, compose, and conduct such musical keys from instruments of wood and metal.

Using these special keys can open up new doors to higher levels of learning. From those benefits of higher learning, one could be rewarded with the key to a Mercedes.

Leading the orchestra through a complicated piece during the Christmas Concert, Mr. Paul Schrum signals for a softing of the music from the flute section.

"First you type in your account number and then press Enter," senior Sandy Meehan explains to her very confused best friend senior Kim Callahan.

Hit the beat now! Junior Cecil Connley and senior Jennifer Hamilton bring up the guitar rhythm while senior Jay Knorr dances his fingers along the piano keys.

As her fingers quickly enter the information into the computer, junior Jennifer Green scans over the printout.

Cheeks full of air and lips pressed to their instruments, junior Terri Matthews and sophomore Bryan Silvis play in musical harmony during a band performance.

"And 1, 2, 3..." Choral Director Debbie Moyers counts as she swings her arm to have the students begin singing.

"Oh geez. Please work!" worries senior Sabrina Stamper as she stares intently at her computer screen.

Practicing their piece for the Christmas concert took up much of Kerry Merritt and Johnnel Riveria time after school.

Decked out and playing like the New York Philharmonic, Mr. Paul Schrum leads the orchestra.

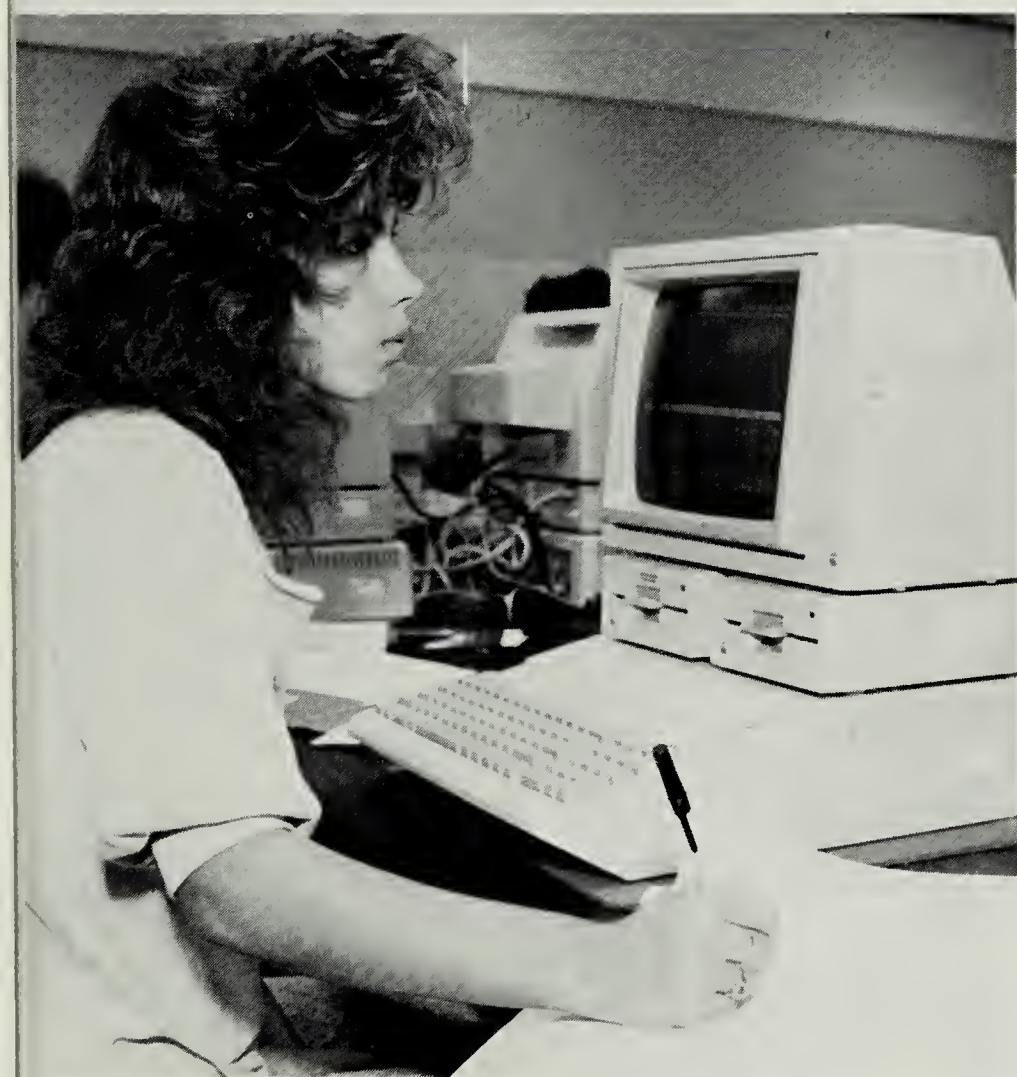

Patiently awaiting the computer's response to her equation, Verena Nanni quietly sits at her terminal.

Computing her gross income for the year, senior Shari Megill can't believe she worked so hard for so little.

Working 9 to 5 in a secretary's position, sophomore Terri Miller knows the value of good typing skills.

Intense concentration is the name of the game for Kim Pruna as she takes notes on the new computer program she is to learn for this week.

Seniors Anita Prasch and Cheryl Pickett add in the sweet notes of their clarinets to the musical ensemble.

Stuffing her fist into her french horn allows Amy O'Daniell to create a low bass sound.

One of the hardest tasks to learn in typing is how not to look at your keys while your typing as Sue Pedro soon learned.

"We don't take notes - WE MAKE THEM!" exclaims junior Mike Diaz.

It takes tremendous lung power to play the trombone as well as senior Todd Houston.

Typing 60 words a minute is a breeze for someone as talented as Lisa Aiken.

Keying copy into the computer while listening through a dictaphone is just one of the skills learned in the Business Department by Krista Veil.

Accompanying the choral groups on the piano each day is Mr. Mac Lambert, a graduate of James Madison University.

Typing and proofreading your work is an essential part of good business skills as demonstrated by Sheryl White and Anita Hill.

PEACE IN THE MAKING

Secretary Council for Argentina Sasha Sabet makes a binding decision on what is best for that country.

Giving his opinion on the economic and social standards of Syria is Sean Martin.

Jenni Craycraft and Tara Heaney, the staff for ECOSOC, listen to refugee and economic problems.

The Republic of Cuba is well represented in the Special Political Committee by Randy Balcomb.

The Model United Nations (MUN) Club won "The Award of Excellence" in March 1987 at the New York City United Nations Competition for their representation of Canada. They went to simulations at UVA November 19-22 (representing the USA, Syria, and Portugal), ODU February 3-7 (representing the USA, South Africa, and the USSR), and Nationals March 16-18 (representing China). The club also sponsored Prince William MUN IV at Gar-Field November 13-14. Over 30 schools from Virginia and Maryland participated in this annual simulation.

The awards won at the UVA conference were: N.A.T.O. - Paul Goyette - Honorable Mention Best Delegate (USA), SOCHUM - Sean Martin - Best Delegate (Syria), Special Political - Jason Griffin - Best Delegate (Syria); David Ripton and John Pope - Best Delegation (USA), First Political - Sasha Sabet and Albert Stumm - Honorable Mention Best Delegation (USA), General Assembly - John Rocha - Best Delegate (USA), Secretary Generals Award - First USA Head Delegate Chris Keltner, and Honorable Mention (Syria) Head Delegate Jason Griffin.

The club is divided into committees and countries as assigned by the various conferences they attend. There are two different levels to the committees. The first level is the Economic and Social Council which deals with refugees and economic problems. First Committee involves Conventional Disarmament, Peaceful Uses of Outer Space, and Nuclear Non-Proliferation. SOCHUM is the same as the Red Cross. The second level is the Historical and Security Councils. The Historical Council picks an event from the past and the delegates try to find a better solution than what really occurred. The Security Council is made up of five permanent members: United Kingdom, United States of America, United Soviet Socialist Republic, France, and The Peoples Republic of China and approximately fifteen small countries to deal with overall problems and any major worldwide crisis that comes up.

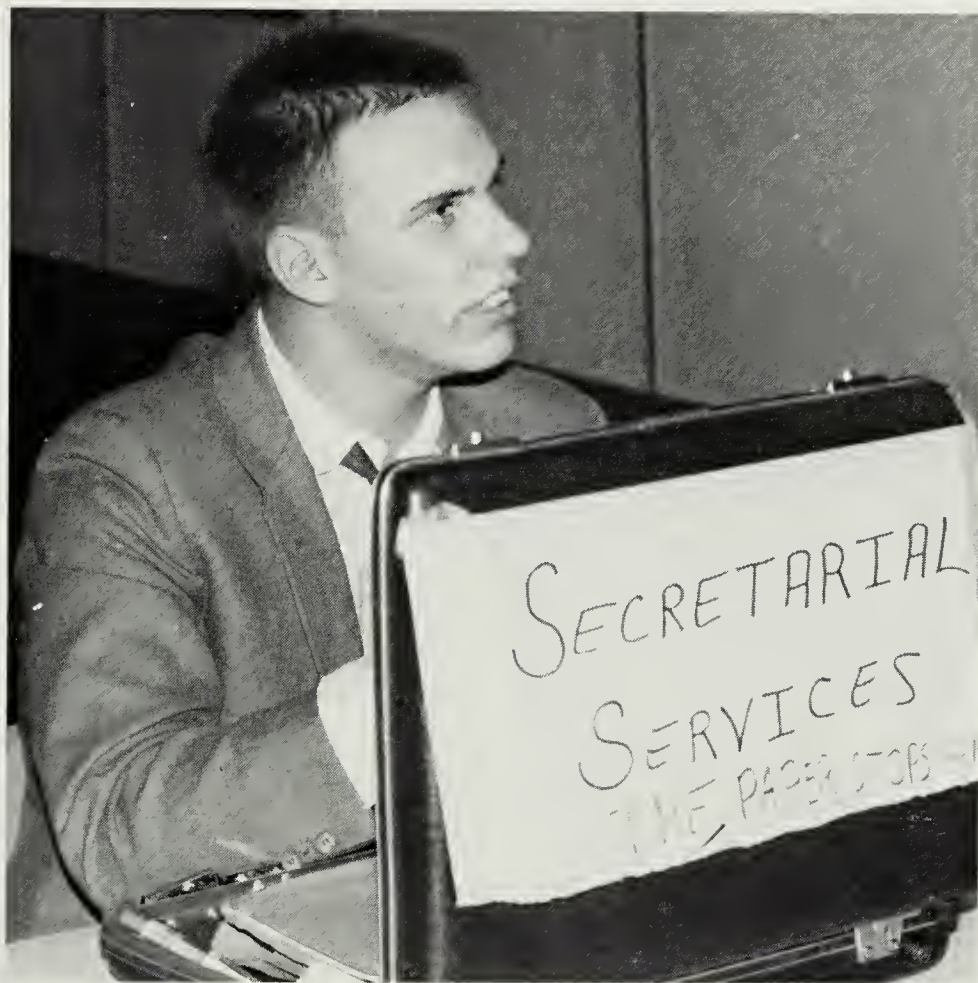

Mr. Ed Johnson, the MUN sponsor sums up the function of the club when he said, "It's like working a business, but this business deals with a country."

Listening to other discussions, John Pope prepares to give his arguments for dealing with special problems of Argentina.

Part of the staff during PWMUN IV, Jason Griffin put together over two-hundred copies of papers on resolutions and got them ready to pass back out to the delegates.

Coming up with resolutions for peace and stability in the Special Political Committee are Bobby Hastey for Portugal, Tom Martin for New Zealand, Matt Obrien for Iceland, and Terry Thompson for Belgium.

Working together on the Special Political Committee is Lisa Schmeiser and a friend from Woodbridge High.

Just For The Record

Student publications play a very important part in keeping track of a student's high school days. The Hyp-hen staff gets their ideas for the student newspaper by brainstorming. "The students brainstorm and write about the stories that interest them" says sponsor Mrs. Sharon Burniston. The staff received a Mac-Intosh computer which enabled them to set their own type.

While the newspaper keeps up with the current events of today, the yearbook staff, Indian Echoes keeps up with student activities. "It's really hard to keep up with all the student activities because there are so many of them, and some things you just have to find out about through the grapevine," says Editor-In-Chief Sherri Bowman. The yearbook is basically the same from year to year in terms of structure. It covers the annual events such as prom and homecoming but most importantly it attempts to cover the new and unique events and trends for that year. First year staff member Sherie Stewart thinks that the hardest part of the yearbook to do is the clubs and organization section.

"It's hark to keep track of so many clubs and what they are doing. A lot of times, you have to be a member to know what the club does, because the club doesn't publicize their events." The only student publication that doesn't keep up with the current events of the year is the Shamen, the school's literary magazine. They take poems, artwork, short stories and essays from the student body. Senior and three year veteran of the staff Ken Sapp says "Shamen gives young aspiring writers, poets and artists the chance to be recognized and have their work published for the community to see." The staff meets every Tuesday to do the layouts and borrow the computers from the library to input the copy they receive from the student body.

The publication business isn't all fun and games. There are stories to be written, layouts and artwork to be designed, pictures to be drawn or taken and developed, interviews to be conducted, Strees takes its toll when deadlines come around. But when the final deadline rolls around and the final pages are checked and turned in, the publication staff is always the first to see the finished product and see that all the hard work and all the after school hours have paid off, and ten years from now, they can show their children old copies of their yearbook, school newspaper, and literary magazine, smile and say "I wrote that copy."

The biggest news in school publications concerned the Supreme Court's 5-to-3 ruling in the Hazelwood School District v. Kuhlmeier case on January 13, 1988. The case involved a Missouri high school principal's censorship of articles in the school newspaper. The Supreme Court decision gave public school officials sweeping power to censor articles in school-sponsored student publications that they reasonably felt might be inconsistent with the school's "basic educational mission."

Waiting for a completed order form from a student who bought a yearbook, sponsor Mrs. Lisa Shacklette was surprised when the final sales total report came in at over 1,443 copies sold.

Taking time out from her job of typing in the senior directory into the computer, Kathy Swider shows that the yearbook staff isn't all hard work and no fun when she wore her lioness costume to school for Halloween.

Following up on a lead for a story, HYPHEN Editor-In-Chief, Kimberly Rhorer, is busy, busy, busy!

This year was a year of changes for the Gar-Field Crew Club. Two of the coaches left the team due to conflicts with their jobs and were replaced with four new coaches: Daryl Swift, formerly of the Woodbridge Crew Club, Crew Mom Sandy Kerby, Tom Moulen and Mike Sykes. Also the President of the Boosters club Toby Salminen stepped down from his position and was replaced by Lee West.

Two of the boats travelled to Boston Oct. 16 - 19 and rowed at the Head of the Charles Regatta. The boys youth four which consisted of seniors Ken Sapp Jr., Robert Thompson and Juniors Matt Morgan and A.K. Leight with senior Karen Embry coxing finished 26th. The other boat, the boys youth eight, finished 24th and was manned by seniors Chris Galvanek, Billy VanGelder, Jason Compy, David Rummler and John Thurman, juniors Matt Feeney, Ryan Wilson, and sophomore Danny Vangelder.

"Another change we went through was that we weight trained at Champions Gym this year instead of the weight room at school," said junior Lauri Noonan.

The Crew Club's first regatta was held on April 1st which was dubbed the Cherry Blossom Regatta and held at Sandy Run Regional Park. As the year progressed, Nationals and Stotesbury regattas came up and the season ended with an awards banquet in May.

For Different Folks

Tennis Club was started 5 years ago at Gar-Field. Since then, it has been going strong. During a club meeting, members might view video tapes, different stroke techniques, decide on future tournaments, or elect officers. Tennis Club offers free clinics as well as a variety of tournaments in the time between the Girls' and Boys' season. There are about 45 to 50 members in the club and their main purpose is to cheer on the tennis teams.

They also sponsor the Compatibility Survey in conjunction with the Computer Club. When the money is divided between the two clubs, tennis uses their share to buy trophies, awards, equipment for the tournaments, video tapes and to sponsor their clinics.

Officers of the Tennis Club are as follows: President-Lisa Ward, Vice President-Lisa Gamboa and Secretary-Jessica Williams. During the intramurals, 4 captains are elected. Those elected are Andrew Boyd, Steven Allen, Christine White and Lynae Skoog.

Quiet on the Set!

There are three words that echo through out the auditorium during play rehearsals: projection, delivery, and articulation. These three words of acting help make plays run more smoothly. The plays done this year were "Auntie Mame", a play based on the novel by Patrick Dennis, which is the story of a young boy going to live with his frivolous aunt in New York. "The Man That Came To Dinner," written by Kaffman and Harte, is the story of an injured man imposing on the kindness of a family, and finally the spring musical "Anything Goes," written by Cole Porter, deals with life aboard a cruise ship with singers, escaped convicts, and homely heroes. The musical was a joint production effort between the Drama Club and the Choral Department.

A lot of activity goes on behind the scenes of any play. Senior Eric Davis, along with his brother junior John Davis, worked with English teacher Mr. Chuck Edwards, senior Terry Thompson, junior Rhonda Watson and building trades instructor Mr. Alan Peck on construction of the sets. Junior Sherri Harrington and senior Ken Sapp, Jr. drew up posters which advertised the plays and the plays' characters.

Special Ed teacher Mrs. Nancy Rosenblatt and Biology teacher Ms. Teresa Colletti helped choreograph the dance moves for "Anything Goes." Swedish exchange student Cecilia Tejler helped with selling tickets.

Costume designs for "Anything Goes" were created by senior Kelly Turner, and juniors Sophie Feaganes, Gillian Hicks, Nikki Woods and Shari Megill.

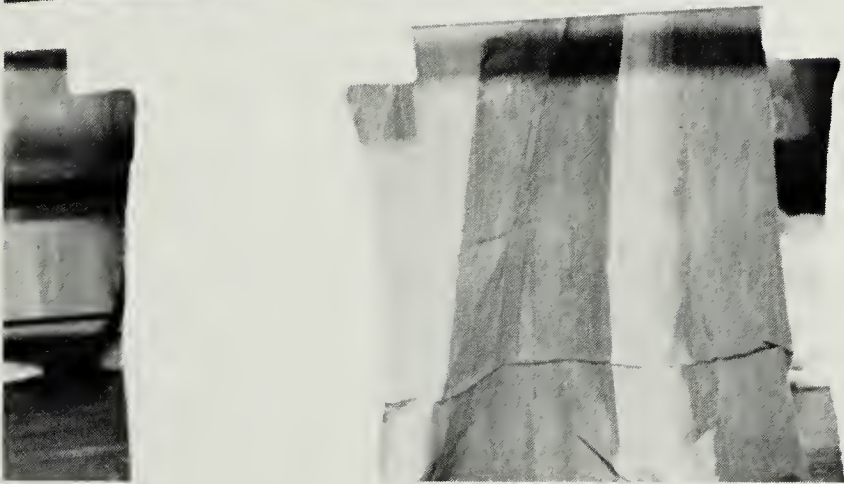

The lighting stage crew consisted of senior Brenda Mayes and junior Ken Bassett. The help for all of the productions was numerous and all efforts were greatly appreciated.

"A lot of people say I look like Emma Samms on Dynasty," says senior Jennifer Warren who portrays the character June Stanley along with senior John Rocha as her husband in "The Man That Came To Dinner."

Portraying the feisty, spoiled, and conceited Sally Cato in the spring production of "Auntie Mame," junior Rexanne Wright twirls her parasol on a very hot day way down south.

It's Christmas time in the Stanley home! With extreme joy and eagerness, Sarah the Cook, played by Kimmi Rhorer, and John the Butler, played by Osie Brown, frantically tear the wrapping paper from their gifts.

It Takes Class

"The Student Government Council's purpose is to improve communications and cooperation between students and faculty in pertinent aspects of school life. To give the students an opportunity to participate in the interpretation of rules which concern them directly. Also to develop in students a sense of responsibility to the school, to the community, and to their fellow students," stated Marya Wright when asked what was the purpose of SGC. The SGC is comprised of one representative from each home room, and the class officers. They hold meetings during each activity period plus one other meeting a month. Some of the fund raising activities that the SGC has done are the Special Olympics, and selling Homecoming tickets. Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshmen

Class Officers are there to support the students in their grade levels and to organize fund raising events to raise money for their Junior / Senior prom. Class officers also organized the decorating of their hall for spirit week, and building floats for Homecoming. This year as an additional fund raiser the Sophomore class officers sold Cupid Grams for 50 cents, and/ or carnations for $1.50 on Valentines day.

Freshmen Officers -- Pres. Nicole Jhonson, V. Pres. Laurie Eichenbaum, Sec. Nicole Slaughter.

Sophomore Officers -- Alessandra Ennet, V. Pres. Tam Le, Sec. Jennifer Peters, Treasurer Teresa Speck.

HIGH HONORS

Who says success doesn't have its rewards?

National Honor Society -- Front Row: Jenny Aldrich, Susan Straight, Diane Loveitt, Dean Brettle, Sheila Cephas, Hung Le, Nancy Barker, and Jenn Snyder. Second Row: Sandra George, Tracy Ferrell, Emily Simmons, Kevin Gutierrez, Darren Brain, David Ripton, Jim Schwab, and Helen Todd. Third Row: A.K. The National Honor Society has been set up to fulfill several purposes: to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop the character of the students. Membership in it has been recognized as one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a high school student. Membership is not only an honor, but a responsibility to continue to demonstrate the qualities that brought about being selected into the Society.

Currently there are 105 members listed in the organization. To become a member, there are several requirements that the students must meet. They must be in the eleventh or twelfth grade with at least a 3.45 grade point average. They must receive a favorable evaluation by the faculty members which is based upon service to the school and community, leadership in classrooms and activities, and character. Guidance supplies the faculty with the names of students who have met the scholastic requirements, and the faculty then evaluates those students and notify the ones who have been selected.

Membership into the National Honor Society is considered the beginning of an obligation, not just the finale of all the effort and hard work that brought about the recognition and honor of being selected. Students should use the qualities that led to their selection to exert a new influence to improve conditions around them. They should promote the qualities of service, leadership, character, and scholarship for which the National Honor Society stands.

Getting down and shaking it on the dance floor best describes the Gar-Field Indianettes. This past year the squad danced to such popular songs as, "Baby Let's Kiss" by Yaz, "Don't Go" by Marlon Jackson, "Causing a Commotion" by Madonna, and "Only In My Dreams" by Debbie Gibson.

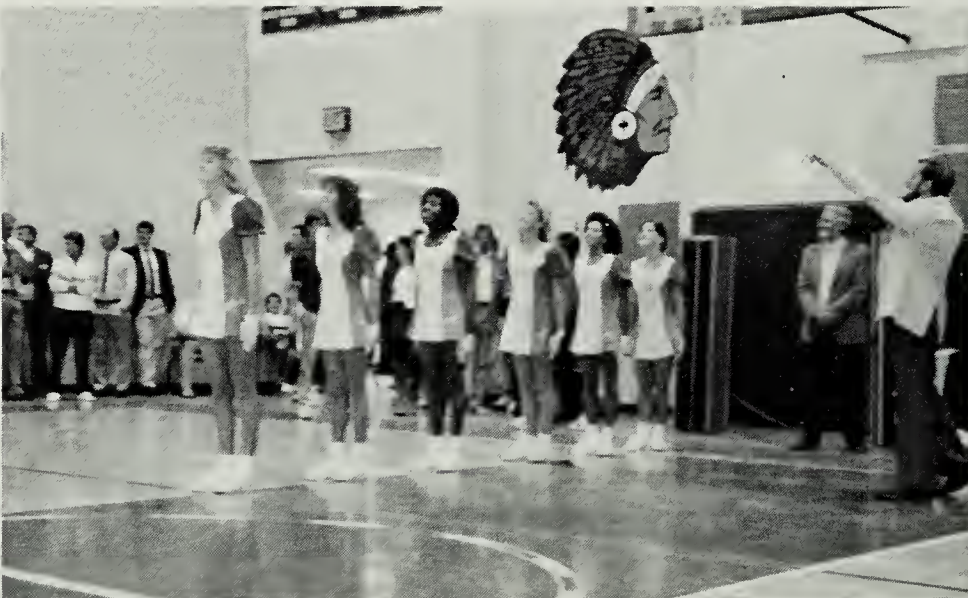

At the summer drill team camp, the squad received the Shining Star Award, Five Star Award, and the Best Home Routine Award. "The officers Lori, Connie, Liann, Myrana, and I performed a routine called "The Storm." We received the Outstanding Officers Award and got selected to perform at the Macy's Parade," explains senior Captain Diana Moody.

Diana and Becky were two of the outstanding girls to receive a pink superstar nominee and were able to perform at the Aloha Bowl in Hawaii.

Plunging to their knees, Kim Bridgeman and Glorie Rodriguez tell Gar-Field "U Got the Look".

The year in general was good for the Gar-Field Flags. "The team received first place in Marching and first place in Field Competition in the Dale City fourth of July competition," says senior co-captain Sheila Jennings.

Routines are conjured up by the captain and co-captains and practiced daily. "Our captains work extremely hard and they deserve much of the credit when we do a good routine," comments senior Beth Dobson.

Sophomore Gillian Hicks enjoys the reaction from the audience, "It's even better when we do a good routine and the audience gets into it."

The corp waved their flags and pranced to "Push It" by Salt n Pepa, "Catch Me I'm Falling" by Pretty Poison, "Naughty Girls Need Love Too" by Samantha Fox and "U Got The Look" by Prince.

Armed and Ready!

"The best part of rifles was performing and practicing for the football games."

Cynthia Lyons

The Gar-Field High School drill team known as the Rifles started early to prepare for the upcoming year. Over the summer they attended a Rifle Camp at James Madison University in July for four days. They practiced long hours during this camp and also throughout the football season. After school practices last until four and four-thirty in the evening Monday through Friday. They not only perform at home games, but they also travel with the band to most away games to support the Varsity Football team.

The team captain Serife Kerem and co-captain Danette Dixon worked together with our new band director Ms. Melinda McKenzie to create routines to the songs played by the band. Then the captains taught these same routines to the other girls after school five days a week. Being a captain isn't easy. It takes time and a lot of hard work, but the end product is worth it.

Senior Brandi Kelly practices the routines in the media hall after school. She has been on the squad since her sophomore year.

When the weather is bad outside the Rifles can always be found practicing in the media hall.

"The season started off kind of bad, but it turned out real good in the end."

“G A R WITH A DASH!!” Does that chant sound familiar? Well it should! That’s only one of the chants that the Pep Club does during the football and basketball season with the cheerleaders. This year, the club had about fifteen active members. The only requirements to become a member is to pay a two dollar membership fee, and attend the games and meetings held during activity period and if necessary, after school, and have school spirit. To help show their spirit, members also purchased a hooded sweatshirt for $18.50 that had their name on the front, “Indians” down one sleeve, their graduation year on the other sleeve and across the back, it says “Gar-Field Pep Club”. The Pep Club does other things besides cheer at the games. One extra activity the club did during the football season was to pick one Friday and get a boutonniere for each of the varsity football players.

One advantage members have is if they purchase their ticket for a basketball or football game in advance, they get a dollar discount. But having fun is not the whole purpose of the Pep Club. “We meet new people and have lots of fun, but we’re also there to show school spirit and help the cheerleaders cheer our teams on to victory,” explains president and third year member Teresa Mathers. So the next time you’re at a football or basketball game, full of school spirit and ready to get rowdy, go find the Pep Club and help cheer your team on to victory!

You Just Can't Beat Those Marching Feet

The Marching Band is a volunteer extracurricular activity in which all the students practice music and formation for performing at football games during half time. Members practice after school every day until four o'clock. During practice members learn and memorize the music and the formations for the songs they perform. These songs include "La Bamba", "Do Da", "Tigre of Sampedro", and "We are the Reason".

The Marching Band this year received a new band director, Ms. Melinda McKenzie. She commented that it was difficult at first but challenging and, together with Mr. Paul Schrum they worked with the Marching Band.

In the stands during a football game, Jason Brown, William Crowson, and Brian Jenkinson play a salute to the players.

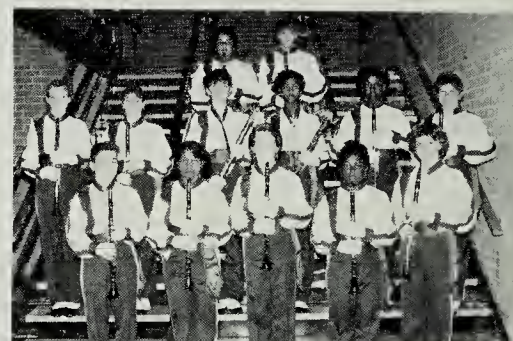

Drum major, Allison Wheeler, stands at attention waiting for the signal to start the band's performance.

Hidden deep in the halls of the vocational classes is a club that doesn't get too much publicity for all it does. V.I.C.A. (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) president Mike Castell says "This is the first year that the members have wanted to do something." And do something they did. This year, they held their annual fruit sale. They made over one thousand two hundred dollars. In November, the officers (President: Mike Castell, Vice President: Tara Peatross, Secretary: Mike Bell, Parliamentarian: Paul Sarmento, Treasurer: Christi Brown, and Reporter: Jeff Hale) traveled to Leesburg, Virginia to a conference put together for schools mainly in Prince William County.

In October, V.I.C.A. members traveled to Kings Dominion for their annual fall rally. "We just go down there, have a meeting, then wander around the park for the rest of the day," says Mike Bell. On March 5, District 5 (Gar-Field's district) holds their annual Olympic Skills Competition. Students that represented Gar-Field were Jeff Hale and Stan Pozateck in Architectural Drafting, Mike Castell, Chris Affeldt and Bobby O'Brien in Graphic Communication, Robert Finch, Tony Pellegrini and Dan Maddox for Automotive Service, Mark Harrison and A.K. Leight for Machine Drafting. Another annual event sponsored by V.I.C.A., but open to all students is the Car Show. This year's show was held May 7.

So now you say to yourself, "How do I get into this club?" Well, it's really easy. All you have to do is enroll in one of the vocational classes, pay a $4.00 membership fee, and your in!

A new club on the block this year that is somewhat like V.I.C.A. is the Technology Student Association. Members must be enrolled in a Technology Education class and pay a $4.00 membership fee. There are about twenty members that meet once a month and schedule motorized car racing events. The purpose of the club is to teach students technological skills, leadership, social skills and provide activities for the members leisure time.

Intellectual Minds

Carefully constructing pieces to their paper tower are juniors John Hegele, Elizabeth Federico, and seniors Fazalit Ali, and Brian Dahl.

What is the capital of Saudi Arabia? Who is the author of THE HOUSE OF SEVEN GABLES? These are just a couple of the questions you might be asked on It's Academic. To get to be a member of It's Academic you are drilled with several questions and depending on your answers you just might become a member of the team. This year's team placed second on the It's Academic show. Along with competing on the television show there was also a District Meet in which Gar-Field, Woodbridge, Osbourn Park, Potomac, Stonewall Jackson, and Brentsville High Schools participated. Gar-Field started the district competition last year and came in second, with Stonewall Jackson taking the first place trophy. To prepare for competition, participants are drilled in the areas of History, Government, and Geography. During this time they try to improve their response time and skill. "Once you are up there it's not so bad," states senior Helen Todd.

The first annual science club olympics took place here at Gar-Field. Four other schools participated. They were Brentsville, Woodbridge, Potomac, and Osbourn Park with a total of fifty students. One event was the penny barge. You were to construct a boat out of foil and the boat that held the most pennys won. Another event was the paper towel tower. You would start out with one piece of eight and a half by eleven inch paper and thirty centimeters of scotch tape. The object was to see who could build the tallest tower. The two winners from Gar-Field were Brian Dahl and John Hegele who constructed a tower one hundred and sixty centimeters in length.

The idea for the olympics came from the club's president Helen Todd. She attended Governors School and was involved in the same type of competition there. Mrs. Christine Hamill really enjoyed working with these students. She said, "They are the best science club I have had in a long time and they are great kids."

The Facts of Life

HERO and HOSA are both composed of students who are in health, food or design classes. HERO is short for Home Economic Related Occupations. The club meets during activity period and occasionally after school. During activity period club members sometimes watch video tapes on subjects that are happening around them such as drug abuse and teen pregnancy. They also were involved in making Christmas ornaments over the holidays which they delivered to Potomac Hospital and local nursing homes. On March 5th the club hosted a competition called Star Events at Gar-Field High School. It was composed of students from all over Virginia that competed in several categories dealing with food and health related subjects.

HOSA is short for Health Occupation Student Association. This club is made up of students in the nursing and health classes. During the Thanksgiving holiday the club collected food and clothing for a needy family in the community. They also gathered information for a bulletin board on AIDS to help students understand the facts and to eliminate rumors.

Concentration

Essentially, Math Club is composed of those students who compete in the Virginia Math League contests held periodically after school. Gar-Field competes regularly in these contests. They have won county competition 3 times and have placed as high as 9th in state competition. A test consists of only 6 problems.

The top 5 scores are chosen and sent to be compiled by county and state league officials. The Math Club competes in several different tests. One of which is given by Virginia Commonwealth University in cooperation with Virginia Teachers of Mathematics (VCU-VCTM). This was taken in November in which 20 people from Gar-Field competed. Another test that is given is the American High School Exam which is given nationwide in March. Sponsors of the Math Club are Ms. Mary Jane Centola and Mr. Gary VanWinkle.

Concentrating on their test are junior Matthew Zawisa, and seniors Dean Brettle and Terry Thompson.

Preparing for the Future

To be in the Future Business Leaders of America Club one must be enrolled in a business class. The purpose of the club is to prepare students for a future in the business field. The club meets during activity period and discusses activities and plans for the year. This year FBLA has had many fundraisers, including a Walk-a-Thon for the March of Dimes, held April 24 at the Prince William Forest Park. The club also had a year-end picnic.

Getting An Early Start

DECA - Christine Adams, Corritte Alvarez, Wendy Baker, Nancy Barker, Michelle Baxley, Cheryl Beighlea, Annette Bender, Andy Boyd, Laura Bradley, Kenya Broadie, Tonya Brice, Lisa Bryant, Tawana Bullcock, Mia Burton, Sharon Caldwell, Suzanna Camon, Joey Carpenter, Jennifer Childs, Janine Chuday, Debbie Cox, Lara Cox, Melissa Cremeans, Delora Culbreth, Cheryl Davis, Maria DeGozman, Jason Devault, Pat Dittmer, Michelle Feaganes, Talisa Fuller, Kathy Gardner, Lynn Gianni, Tonya Green, Suzanne Habbert, Katherine Harnest, Samantha Harte, James Hartman, Kanna Henriquez, Stephon Henry, Evelyn Hockett, Kelley Hoff, Angie Jarrett, Christina Jones, Adrienne Kennedy, Jennifer Kreamer, Larry Klesnick, Robert Kohlbecker, Lisa Maddalena, Jeff Marolda, Steve Marsh, Dawn Matthews, Brenda Mayes, Caroline Maze, Tim McCafferty, Jennifer McMillian, Jeff Mead, Kymberlei Mickins, Diana Moody, Darlaine Munsell, Erick Olaes, Joyce Orr, Shortie Panzo, Daniel Parker, Michelle Parker, Tamara Peters, Eric Peterson, Brian Petruskas, Tara Rainsberger, Lenore Scroggins, Kent Sharp, Carolyn Shoop, Sherri Smith, Tammy Smith, Dawn Stewart, Tanya Street, Michelle Taylor, Elizabeth Tukey, Sandy Trolano, Kelly Turner, Beverly Velasco, Jennifer Walker, Krystol Walker, Tanya Wantz, Larry Wayland, Melissa Weckeman, Melanie Werner, Michelle Wetherbee, Franklin Wilkerson, Lisa Winemiller, Lisa Wright, and Meredith York.

DECA has four sponsors. They are Denise Davis, Ray Dise, Elizabeth Slack, and Debbie Welch. It is a co-curricular club of the fashion merchandising classes. Some community projects that the club participated in were stuffing stockings for the Salvation Army, and giving Christmas cards to nursing homes.

They put on a Fashion Show March 24 here at Gar-Field. There are competitions for District, State, and Nationals that one can be involved in. The State winners go to Nationals in Salt Lake City, Utah. The people competing were Annette Bender, Katherine Harnest, Kelly Turner, and Robert Kohlebecker. Annette and Katherine competed in Restaurant Marketing, Kelly in Apparel and Accessories, and Robert in General Merchandising.

They meet once a month during activity period and sometimes have a guest speaker from a local business. The officers are Annette Bender (President), Anita Filips (Vice President), Susie Camou (Secretary/Treasurer), Cheryl Davis (Reporter), and Crystal Walker (Historian).

This year, the Key Club's motto is "Caring: Our Way of Life" and they plan to carry that theme out to the best of their abilities. In May, the club assisted The Red Cross in its annual blood drive by registering blood donors and being there with food and drinks for the participants. Other club activities include the planting of a maple tree in front of the school on Arbor Day and assisting the Salvation Army by ringing the bell for a week.

Sixteen years ago, the Teen Counseling program was introduced to the county as an anti-drug campaign for middle schoolers. Over the years, the program has changed its focus from drug awareness to the promotion of developing a positive self-image. "It's a lot of fun to see the kids learn to like themselves," says Deborah Hopson. Teen counselors visit only sixth-graders. There are about 300 counselors in the county program. Says co-sponsor Mrs. Joyce Jones, "There are 100 classrooms (that get reached) in the county, with about thirty kids per class, and about three counselors to a class. Imagine how many kids can be reached!"

Think Before You Drink

*The Driver
is here*

This is a message that if you drink you should choose who is going to drive so there will be no accidents.

Discussing important issues during activity period in front of the English pod is Mr. Chuck Robinson, Mrs. Stephanie Koepping, Lisa Bushbaum, Meghan McRunnel, Kim Freeman, and Trina Davis.

If you're drinking,
who's driving?
Be smart

A few of these posters were placed all over the school to get the point across that you don't drink and drive.

Happy about SADD. Students Against Drunk Driving is a very active club. Many of their activities took place off of school property. There were bake sales, car washes, skits for drug awareness, and the decoration of a Christmas tree in memorium of deaths as a result of accidents caused by alcohol.

Meetings were held during activity period outside of the English pod and once a week after school. Most club meetings concentrated on how to raise money to purchase promotional materials to get the message across to the student body that there is a danger when you mix drinking with driving.

Oddly enough there have not been any males in this club in three years. They have just stayed out or not gotten involved although statistically most drunk driving accidents are caused by men. "The members are very active and are the best group I've had the pleasure of working with in a long time," said Mr. Robinson.

SPEAK UP!

Forensics is the place to do it!

Forensics is just not another club. It is actually two teams the Debate and Speech Teams. They both deal with preparing information to formally present calmly and logically in front of a panel of judges.

Debate is a team of dedicated students that research all the information about a given topic to present in a case both for and against a topic. This year the topic was "The United States government should adopt a policy to increase political stability in Latin America. The team gathered information to put together an affirmative case and other data to break down their opponents case.

Speech on the other hand is more of an individual endeavor. Members compete individually or in pairs. The events to speak on are divided into the following categories are: Dramatic Duo, Poetry and Interpretation, Prose Interpretation, Dramatic and Humorous Interpretation, Discussion, Extemporaneous, Impromptu, and sometimes Radio Broadcasting. The sponsor Mrs. Stephanie Koepping works with the members to develop each presentation for competition.

Researching Our Forefathers

Treasurer Lisa Jones and Vice President Kim Trotman get together to discuss future plans for the History Club.

Settling down in Mr. Kenneth Pearson's World History Class, the Black History Club students prepare to learn more about the achievements made by noted black people.

"Those whom do not learn their history are doomed to repeat it." That phrase is the basis for History classes as well as the History Club. The History Club meets every activity period and sometimes after school. This year the club went and saw court proceedings in session. They also took trips on an original steam engine train and went to visit historic sights in Charlottesville. The officers for the club this year were President Jim McConnell, Vice President Kim Trotman, Public Relations Robert Wright, and Secretary/Treasurer Lisa Jones.

Starting a new club is never an easy task. The first priority is to let everyone know that the club actually exists. If not, the club unfortunately folds. That was the problem senior Tonya Walker faced when she was elected president of the new Black History Club.

"We research the great achievements made by blacks and how they have greatly contributed their services to society," says Tonya.

The Black History club meets every activity period and each meeting is devoted to making the public aware of black people's contributions to the world.

Languages of the World

The Foreign Language clubs are set up to provide a place for foreign language students to be able to speak their language outside the class and to further their awareness of culture in other countries. The French Club went to a French restaurant, and saw the French play "Le Petit Prince" held at Howard University. The Latin Club has stressed the academics in the past few years. They go to Latin competitions one of which was at WT Woodson High School in Fairfax that was attended by about twenty Gar-Field students on March 12. During Spanish Club meetings the members do Spanish crafts, and watch Spanish movies. The members of the German Club had many parties this year where they tasted many different types of German foods. Foreign language clubs have a booth set up during the activity fair held at the beginning of each academic year to help encourage new and old Gar-Field students to become members. Foreign Language Week is also sponsored by the clubs, and they decorate the Foreign Language Department to emphasize the need for learning a different language other than English.

French Club sponsor 'Madame' Sally Watts, Carmen Dennis, and Scott Lazerson discuss future club activities, such as going to a French play or restaurant, with the club members during activity period.

Working on Spanish crafts during activity period in February is vice president Amy Tom.

President of the Spanish Club Niquella Talley listens to suggestions from the members of the club on activities that they might want to be involved in for the rest of the year.

Latin club members Kent Dixon and Kim Tate discuss latin terms, and the activites that they will be doing the next six weeks for the club.

Relaxing before their hectic school day begins are junior Kevin Higgins, and seniors Matthew Dulin, Richard Phillips, and Kelly Kerrigan.

Playing volleyball in his Advanced Physical Education class, junior John Lingafelt winds up to serve the ball.

"Can you believe I hang out with these people?" says junior Yun Yi jokingly about juniors Troy Fontillas, Ken Walker, Ryan Wilson, and Heidi Clark.

"No pain, no gain" is freshman Scott Williams' motto while working out in the weight room to prepare for Cross Country.

Relaxing and talking during lunch are seniors Sandra Meehan and Kimberly Callahan.

It's A Magical Time

"In eighth grade you were on top; now you have to start all over."
--Maureen Berry

They are the new kids on the block; someone a sophomore can pick on, and a person that the upperclassmen can tease. This is how freshmen are perceived. Their first year is generally one of magic and excitement, whether it is exploring the new building or trying to figure out how many teachers can possibly be in one school.

"It's exciting and different. In the eighth grade you were on top, now you have to start all over," said Maureen Berry. Start all over is right! Freshmen have to figure out where to go at the right time and place, and what time does the bus come? What is its number? Where is the bus stop? Where are my classrooms? How will I know what lunch I will have? Where is my locker going to be? These are just some of the questions that a freshman has to face. Chrissy White said that she was "already familiar with the school, but I was still nervous. Now I'm used to the routine," she adds.

Evidently the upperclassmen have been experiencing a feeling of magic also and being nice to the newcomers. "In orchestra, everyone just accepted us; we fit right in," says Frank Council. Chad Gargan states that "it's not as bad as I thought it would be because the people I have met that are older than me treat me like everybody else."

Now, they have eased into their new routine and hopefully discovered that it is not as hard as they expected. Next year will be their turn to pick on and tease the underdog.

Even though it is fairly early in the morning, Frank Council manages a big smile for the camera.

Bill Yates, Edna Addo, David Hicks, and Wendy Schaeffer discuss their upcoming English quiz.

Mr. Tom Corbin opens class with a discussion of William Shakespeare's play "Romeo and Juliet".

"I was already familiar with the school, but I was still nervous. Now I'm used to the routine." -- Chrissy White Working hard, Luther Campbell tries to finish his quiz for Ms. Jerlynn Gladney so that he can go home.

Friends In Everything

Sitting in Ms. Meg Gruber's sixth period class, Tina Garcia and JoAnne Federico take time off from class to relax. At the end of the day, one's mind tends to wander from heat flow maps to the plans that have been made for after school!

Sitting in the upstairs cafeteria during second lunch, Rebeccah Affeldt and Stephanie Cuff get ready to eat their food on the split-shift hour. Lunch is a time for being with friends and sharing the events and gossip of the day.

Let's Get Involved

The Prince William Model United Nations IV held their annual simulation here on November 13-14. Randall Baucom represented the Republic of Cuba on the Special Political Committee, and he also represented Cuba at the University of Virginia's United Nations simulation held November 19-22.

"Marching Band is fun and hard work, but you get a lot out of it." So feels Brian Jenkinson, who plays the trumpet. The band practices four times a week after school. Brian likes playing at the games, but he says that learning the intricate marching formations takes about three weeks of hard concentration.

Another Magical Year

Upon completing the first year of high school freshmen initiation, returning sophomores are eager and better prepared for their second year. Sophomorehood brings far more status in the eyes of upperclassmen because you have made it through your freshman year in one piece and can no longer be easily fooled about the swimming pool or going up the down staircase. One of the most exciting events that happen your sophomore year is preparing to get your drivers license. Just thinking that your next summer will not be spent depending on your parents, older brother or sister, and friends to drive you around can send chills of delight up your spine. You'll be independant and can go anywhere and everywhere your heart desires.

In addition to your drivers license you also order and receive your class ring. Experiencing that time honored tradition of having "89" of your classmates turn your class ring, and that special ninetieth person to seal it is a tradition everyone looks forward to.

To some students the best thing about being a sophomore is that this is their last year of gym! All the pain, sweat and agony of having to dress out and go play tennis or some other sport and then getting dressed again will almost be at an end. Considering all the positive versus minor negative aspects of being a sophomore, this could well be described as "Another Magical Year!"

Enthusiastically showing off their new volleyball uniforms are sophomores Teri Mathewson and Heather Fullinwider.

Mike Davis isn't to sure what all the picture taking is about but he'll go along with the photographer for the time being .

"We had no idea there would be so much paperwork involved in getting our driver's licenses!" think Chris Daily and Marco Hinkson.

At the Drama Club production of "The Man Who Came To Dinner," sophomore Lisa Schmeier followed the script closely while operating the lighting board.

Many students, such as sophomores Claudia Daniels and Shannon Jackson, wait for a ride home after school in the main lobby because of a club or sport meeting.

Assemblies

Jason Davis models his Howie Mandel concert tee-shirt while he socializes at the sophomore orientation before everyone takes their seats.

There's nothing like an assembly, you get out of class to talk with your friends which is exactly what Jeanne Schmecht and Victoria Sedlacek plan on doing.

During a short break between matches Darren Scott, David Quirin, and Anthony Gamboa, discuss their plan of attack for the next match.

While waiting for the opposing team to serve the ball Stephanie Shrewsbury and the Varsity Volleyball Team assume the correct receiving position.

Friends ALWAYS Study Together

Working on their homework in Mr. Riddles fifth period Drivers Ed class, sophomores Jennifer Stambaugh and Jennifer Breeding are serious about getting their drivers license.

Studying with a friend is the only way to go, as Lisa Buschbaum and Cheryl Strickland laugh and learn in their classroom before the tardy bell rings.

Raphaëlle Blodgett is designing the room of her dreams with paint and paper in her interior design class.

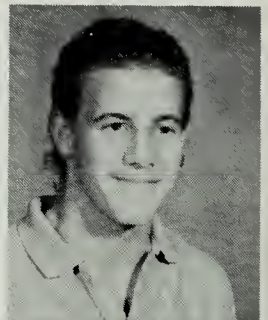

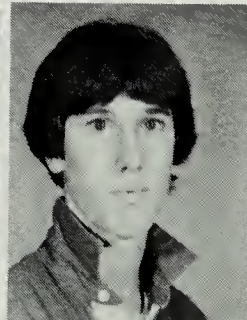

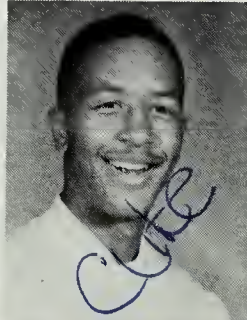

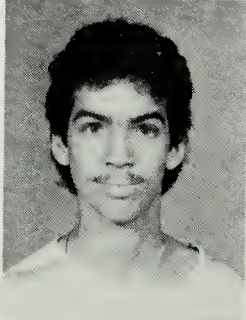

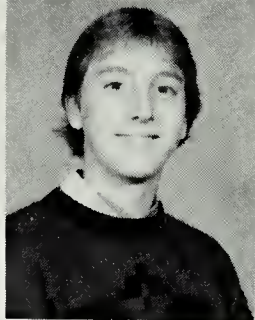

During Ms. Cahill's first period Algebra I class Michael Carmone concentrates hard on a factoring problem on this algebra test.

A Sophomores Dream: To Own A Class Ring

The Magic Is In The Air With One More Year To Go

Spending her extra time after lunch wisely, Tracy Middleton reviews for a quiz.

Paying close attention during the pep rally for the big Gar-Field - Woodbridge football game, Michelle Richardson hopes that the Indians will beat their biggest rival.

Collecting his books for homework assignments and extra work, Sasan Sabet can frequently be found at his locker.

Carefully finding the freezing point of his experiment in Ms. Regina Lechaton's Chemistry class is Thad Jamieson.

Cooperation is the key as Lianne Arrington, Randy McGrail, and Stephanie Massey work together on a lab in Chemistry.

After completing a long and complicated lab on some yeast cultures in Biology II, Kim Quiroz can finally collect her notes and go home.

A cheerleader's job is never done! Diane Ondo cheers her heart out to get the crowd rowdy at the Gar-Field - North Stafford football game.

Taking a break before performing a routine, co-captain Lisa Busch sits quietly in her Flags uniform.

Always in position, Stephanie Hosier is ready to hit the ball back over the net.

Being a junior is a compromising position. They feel superior over the underclassmen, but they're not quite yet the "top dog". It is a time when they become more respected and less looked down upon because they're no longer the "youngins" anymore. It is a sign that they've survived their first two years of high school with only one more to go. Times are good, but the best are yet to come.

Students in eleventh grade have many responsibilities associated with earning the title of "Junior". Their third year of high school may even be classified as one of the hardest. Plans for the future begin in this year. It is a time when college and career plans are in the beginning stages and everything is still up in the air. Yet, it creates a good foundation to build upon.

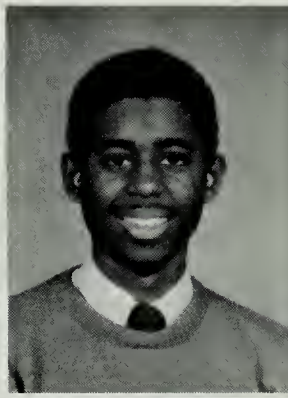

The Junior Class has the responsibility of paying for the Junior/Senior Prom. Juniors do this as a farewell to the Senior Class. It is not easy work trying to pay for an entire dance. Juniors sponsor the Junior Variety Show in an effort to raise money. Candy sales are also held because every little cent helps. Cooperation and hard work is the plan for the Class of 1989 in order to achieve their goals.

After all is said and done, juniors find time for good times with good friends. With all the responsibilities of busy work schedules, fund-raising activities, extra-curricular activities and part-time jobs, they still find time for fun and games. Everyone deserves a little R & R, but if anyone deserves it more, it would definitely have to be the Junior Class.

The Forth Year Is Magic

Lesley Swider and Joyce Soderstrom enjoy having their own senior parking space.

Chris Ondo obviously does not want John Majeski to go take his government test because rumor has it, it was a killer!

Trying to hurry up at his locker so he will not be late for his next class is John Thurman.

This fun crew Bernie Dombrowski, April Lewis, Anthony Tuggle, and Carena Bender hang out in the main lobby after lunch to pass the time before fifth period.

Although these big guys make it through the morning with their Wheaties, Chris Galloway, Robert Baucom, and Karlo Obcemea make it a point to stop by the cafeteria for "lunch" their main meal of the day.

Lori Schroeder, Lesley Swider, and Lucinda Tucker don't mind the hike from the parking lot to the school since graduation is right around the corner.

Pamela Jefferson jokes around as Laura Chavez takes seriously the fine art of looking good, while making the final touches before being photographed for her senior portrait.

Proudly displaying their prize-winning senior float, Jacqueline Darby, Kimberly Callahan, Sean Jones, Kelly Turner, Deborah Long, Alicia Baldrige, Jodi Saunders, and Lucinda Grove aren't scared by the eeriness of the haunted house.

Senior Princess Diana Moody smiles in nervous anticipation while waiting anxiously for the final moment when the Homecoming Queen is crowned.

The magic of our senior year is something that can never be forgotten. So many factors contribute to it to make it the best 188 days of our lives. What exactly makes our fourth year of high school so special?

Before school even started, senior activities had already begun. Practices for Cheerleading, Indianettes, Flags, and Rifles started well before September 8th, with many seniors on the squads. The golf team had already played five matches before the first day of school with its first match on August 19th. Girls tennis and varsity football also played before the rest of us even thought about anything to do with school.

Senior portraits took place in the month of August, also. Segall-Majestic contacted seniors and scheduled appointments for the 14th, 17th, 18th, and 19th. This is the first time that seniors had their cap and gown pictures taken along with the usual yearbook pose. A third option was also made available to students in which they could be photographed in a creative pose. Many people enjoyed this new package deal. During this time, many nervous seniors arrived at the school for that traditional senior photo session.

Although many seniors saw each other over the summer, the first week of school was an exciting time to catch up on who went where with who and why. Of course, seeing old friends wasn't the only activity taking place. Upon receiving their schedules, seniors immediately dashed for guidance wanting class changes. After three days of senior schedule changes, the underclassmen finally had a chance to make their schedule changes.

At last seniors get adjusted to their regular routines. Homework, SAT preparation classes and tests, and part-time jobs are what many seniors face every day. Amazingly enough, they manage to balance their busy work schedules with enough free time for some fun.

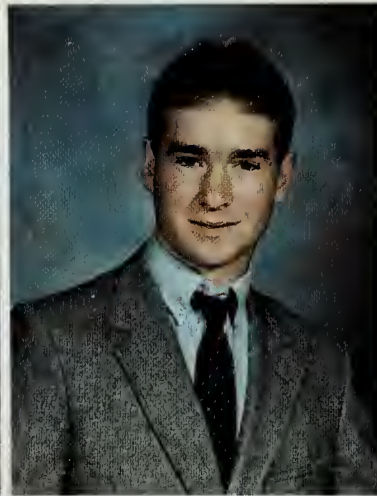

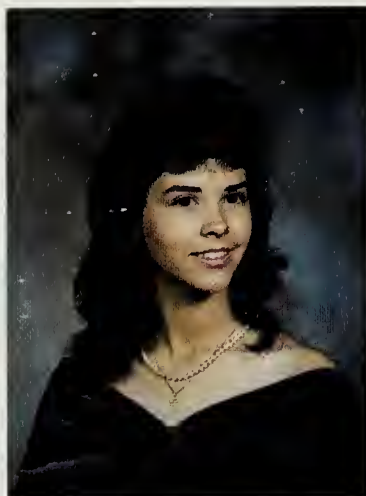

The school spirit and drive of the class of 1988 surpasses that of senior classes of past years. For almost the whole month of October, seniors stayed after school practically every day to work on their prize-winning float for Homecoming. At the pep rally for the Homecoming game against North Stafford, seniors dominated in their enthusiasm and spirit.

Our senior year of high school is probably the most expensive year of high school. Seniors have the honor of paying for senior portraits, SAT tests, application fees, college visitation days, senior class trip, cap and gown, graduation announcements, and finally, beach week. Not counting the fact that most seniors are also making car payments and saving up for college. Luckily, parents are willing to chip in a little or else seniors would not be seen out on the weekends for lack of money.

All in all, to survive the expense, excitement, and hard work is well worth going through to finally reach that magical moment called graduation (June 17, 1988).

You Said It!

Steve Livingston -- "School is a relief from everyday life. It is a big social gathering and not enough education goes on there."

Anthony Tuggle -- "There are not enough bathrooms open!"

David Quirin -- "I am already overcome by senioritis in the third week of school."

Chosen as Mr. Gar-Field was Chris Galloway. "I feel I was chosen because I have been participating in many activities and sports for the past four years," commented Chris, who was also voted as Most School Spirited and Most Athletic.

Diana Moody was voted as Ms. Gar-Field. She agrees with Chris about why she was chosen. She has been involved in many school activities throughout her high school years, such as Indianettes and Teen Counseling. About being Ms. Gar-Field, Diana said, "I feel this is a very special honor."

Chosen as Most School Spirited was Chris Galloway. Chris feels he was chosen because he has participated in athletics during all his years at Gar-Field. "Cheering is a sense of inspiration that shows how much a person cares about representing his or her school as a whole," Chris says about what spirit means to him.

Well known for her enthusiasm is Debbie Long. She was voted as Most School Spirited and feels that having spirit can help improve the performance of members of teams. Not a pep rally has passed that Debbie hasn't been seen cheering for her school with those well known words: "Give me a G-A-R-F-I-E-L-D!"

When the words "class clown" are heard, one name usually comes to mind. Billy Boros has not been known for his serious attitude about life. Yet, he does not let the title as "Class Clown" go to his head. As Billy says, "I would put it right up there with watching a rerun of the Love Boat or eating a cold plate of broccoli."

The outgoing Debbie Long was also selected as "Class Clown". Debbie thinks that her "obnoxious attitude" is why she was chosen, but everyone knows that her fun-loving outlook on life is the real reason.

Dominants has produced some very talented performers in the past, present, and in future years to come. One of these performers is Celeste Browder, who was voted as Most Talented. Celeste attributes her many talents to her family for support and to God. She says, "I know if it weren't for him, I would not have won."

Ali Kerem has been active in drama and chorus throughout all of his high school career. It is understandable why he was chosen as Most Talented. Ali believes, "I'm talented because I strive to achieve the best."

An all-round athlete, Chris Galloway has shown why he was voted as Most Athletic. A participant in both football and basketball, he finds many aspects in sports. "I enjoy participating in sports because there is a challenge between opponents in which winning is the reward," commented Chris. One thing that he favors most concerning sports is "the development of relationships between players and coaches."

Asked why she enjoyed participating in sports activities, Lara Powell, chosen as Most Athletic, answered easily: the competition. "I enjoy the excitement of competition. You get self-satisfaction, pride, and confidence in yourself when you work hard and push yourself to the limit to achieve your goal and win." Lara agrees with Chris that the coaches have major roles. She says, "They make it fun, they make me want to work hard, and they make me want to win."

"Maybe I'm a little over-friendly..." are the words Michelle Taylor uses to explain her title as Most Flirtatious. Showing affection towards the opposite sex can be fun, no doubt, but to Michelle nothing beats settling down with the "man of my dreams".

Voted as the Most Flirtatious male was Matt Wheeler. "I have an open mind dealing with people. (Especially girls!)," explains Matt.

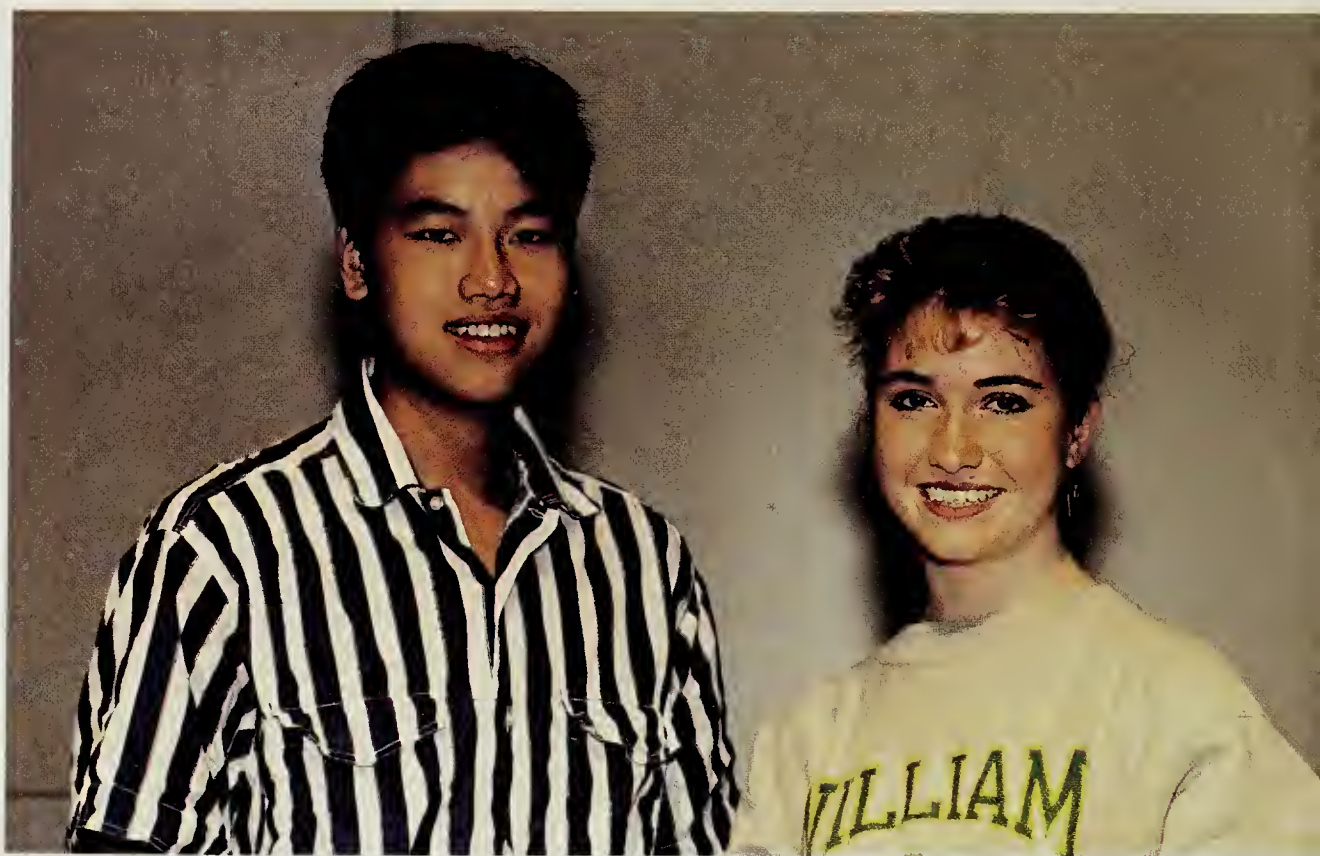

"Students at Gar-Field equate success with intelligence or outstanding academic achievement. I, myself, put a monetary value on success. I hope they know some secret that I don't know about." Understand? Only one student could have made such a statement and that person is Hung Le. Voted as Most Likely to Succeed, Hung not only wants to be successful but very rich.

Susan Straight was voted as Most Likely to Succeed. Susan hopes to use the gifts she has to become the best she can be. In her own words, Susan says, "I think that if people perform to their utmost ability in everything they do, they have achieved their own personal success."

One of the quietest people in Gar-Field is Joe Carroll. Joe thinks of himself as a shy person, and that explains why he was voted as Most Quietest. He said, "I'm quiet around people I don't know very well."

A person who doesn't like to "waste" words is Jenny Miller. The senior class voted her as Most Quietest, and Jenny knows why. She said, "I don't like talking in class or with large groups." But when Jenny has something on her mind, she speaks up. As she puts it, "Once I know someone, I have alot to say."

You Said It!

"I'm too tired for school." -- Steve Jones

"After graduating from Gar-Field, I can't wait to go to Harvard." -- Karlo Obcemea

"Gar-Field is all right, but it just isn't the same without my buddy Dave!" -- Mike Connor

The Possibilities Are Endless

What is senior spirit? How can it be defined? Is it a feeling or an action? Is senior spirit just another name for school spirit? What ever senior spirit is, after three years of building, it has reached its peak. What sparked this fire you can see burning in the eyes of these students? I would say the Senior Class President Emily Cunha had something to do with it. Maybe the President of the S.G.C. Micheal Gunn added fuel to this fire burning in the halls of Gar-Field.

Who caused this sudden rebirth of senior spirit is not important, but what is important is the people who keep the spirit alive. People like the Cheerleaders, Football Team, Indianettes, Flag Corps, Pep Club, and the Senior Homecoming Committee. The members of the homecoming committee were: Kelly Turner, Debbie Long, Kelly Hoff, Sandy Meehan, Kim Callahan, Jodi Saunders, Jill Baldrige, Lori Schroeder, Kathy Swider, James Jandreau, Jesse Taylor, Stan Poczatek, Sean Jones, Steve Cecil, Wendy Baker, Emily Cunha, and Micheal Gunn. Their hard work payed off by winning the Homecoming Float Competition, decorating the hallway for the dance, and boosting the senior spirit.

Working hard to pull together a prize-winning float, Kelly Turner, Jodi Saunders, and Jill Baldrige add the finishing touches.

It's All In A Name

Hanging out in the main lobby after lunch, Bobby Shearer, and Chris Ondo (alias Tobert and Chilli Dog) are in no big hurry to go to class.

Nicknames play a very important role in the life of some people. For some, all it takes is a misspelling of their name. As in the case of Bobby Shearer, a misprint of his name in the 1985 yearbook has given him the nickname "Tobert" that has stuck since then. Chris Ondo got his famous name "Chilli Dog" by always commenting that there was a two for one sale on chilli dogs at 7-11.

Other people may get a nickname by the way they act. Lesley Swider fell in love with Big Bird on Sesame Street and sang along with him, therefore the name Big Bird was perfect for her. Some names are just a shortened version of their real name. A few examples are: Christopher-Chris, Kenneth-Ken, Micheal-Mike, and Pamela-Pam.

Also, the spelling of a name may have some influence as in the case of Janine Chuday. The spelling of her name looks like JA-9 and being called that so many times it just stuck. Therefore, there are many ways a nickname may come about.

Eric Stoutamyer -- "It is great to be a senior, it's about time."

The Future Is Now

Enjoying her non stressful job at Peebles Heather Presnell finds time to have fun during her break from passing out numbers for the dressing room.

Studying her Biology II work on chapter 3 (which deals with biological chemistry), Sarah Gresham hopes to get a good grade in Mrs. Pitt's fourth period class.

Hoping to become a professional hair dresser, Irene Ryan, has taken two years of cosmetology to prepare her for that field of work. Cosmetology is a class that takes up three periods of the school day. In this course you learn how to cut, color, perm, and style hair. Also, facials and manicures are taught.

Heather Presnell is like 60% of the students who maintain a part time job while attending school. There was a great increase of part time jobs offered which triggered more students to be interested in the business field.

More students want to be independent and having a part time job is one way of doing that. Most people like to have their own spending money and not have to go to their parents everytime they need some. It's a good feeling to have your own money and you tend to spend it more wisely.

Working hard to meet her college goals, Sarah Gresham, plans to attend the College of William and Mary and major in elementary education and fine arts. One day she hopes to work overseas as a teacher.

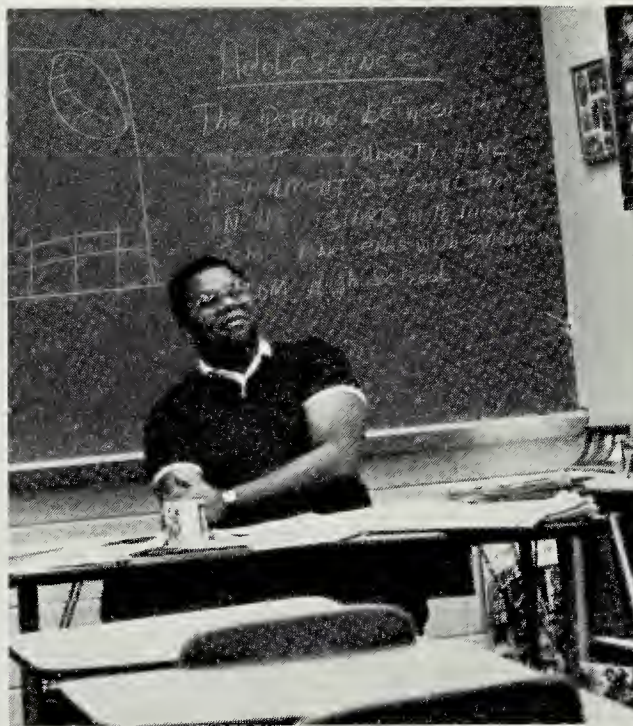

She feels that the four years at Gar-Field were both happy and rewarding years, but Sarah says "that she is ready to leave and take on the world" as all college bound students undoubtedly feel. It takes alot of hard work and preparation to become the best in the field of work you plan to be in and sooner or later that hard work pays off.

The backbone of the senior class, President Emily Cunha, strives to make the class of 1988 the best ever.

With authority written all over his face, Mike Gunn, President of the S.G.C., takes charge of the Homecoming Decoration Committee and decides along with others how to decorate the hallway.

Sociology classes are offered to seniors only. Kathy Breslin, Jeff McCuen, and Kim Hopkins discuss cultural differences among the various decades with Mr. Pat O'Shea.

It's Your Time

The senior class was very lucky to have such hard working individuals as our presidents. Mike Gunn submitted a speech that more or less says it all.

"The mind is an endless passageway of possibility in which you can be or do anything you desire. At the end of this passageway there is a light forever shining in the distance. This light is called hope and as long as there is a glimmer of hope anything is possible. The key that unlocks the door to this passageway is inspiration because if inspired and there is a ray of hope there is nothing we can't accomplish."

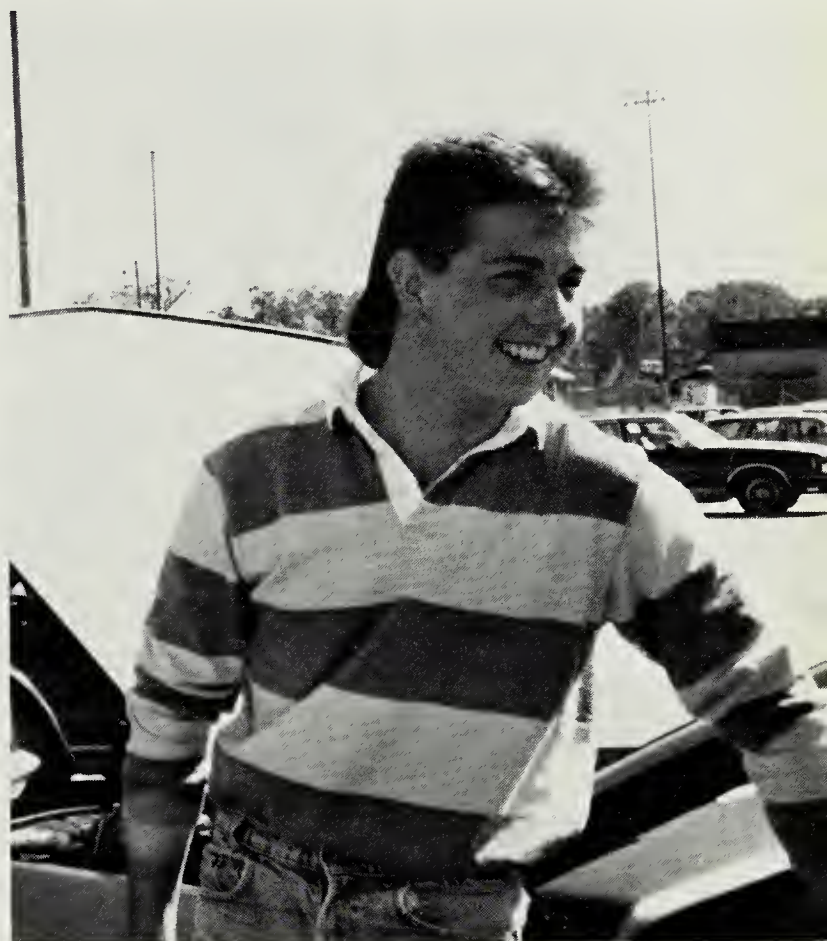

Emily Cunha made the senior class more united. She, as well as Mike, put forth a lot of time and effort to make this class the best it can be. Emily along with Mr. Dallek worked together to compile a list of senior privileges. A few of them are: seniors get yearbooks a day before the rest of the student body, we get out of sixth period five minutes early, and we have our own parking area.

The seniors really know how to show a lot of spirit at pep rallies by having two signs up which are: Gar-Field "88" and Seniors Dominate. The seniors show what they are made of by cheering the loudest and participating the most.

Anything Can Happen

Able to laugh it off, Jesse Taylor is in good spirits even when stranded in the school parking lot.

Making sure everything is in good running condition, John Sawicki checks out his new Mazda.

Working vigorously on a piece of car machinery in Auto Mechanics II are Jarrett McInturff, and Brian Scott.

Delinda Culbreth takes a test out in the media hall where it's quieter while Lisa Volpe calls out the questions.

Collecting data and doing research for his English class is Mike Forgo.

The Turning Point

Making copies for one of her classes off of the machine in the library is Sharlene Washington.

Relaxing after taking a big test and deciding if all of his answers are correct is Rod Johnson.

The individual with the most school spirit undoubtedly would be Debbie Long, along with her famous words "give me a G-A-R-F-I-E-L-D."

The four leaders on the football field, Chris Galloway, Glen Balcom, Billy Wise, and Greg Simcic get siked up before the big game against Woodbridge.

The seniors really know how to get in the spirit of the pep rally. With confetti thrown all over, everybody seems to be having a good time.

Aboard the prize winning float are John Majeski, Jeff Marolda, Kim Callahan, and Wesley Sierk who sike the crowd up as they drive by the stands.

The End Of The Road

Never A Dull Moment

Teaching how to solve equations by graphing, Math teacher Mr. Ashley Kohler demonstrates a problem at the chalkboard.

No wonder Mrs. Harriet Ellington knows so many students, prior to coming to Garfield she was a substitute teacher at Bel-Air and Minnieville elementary schools.

Besides teaching drafting and coaching Varsity Baseball, Mr. Tony Labozetta finds time to coach inside linebackers for the Varsity Football team.

Our new principal Mr. Roger Dallek, who has been working in Prince William County for thirteen years, will always be known as Gar-Field's "fearless leader".

Striving For Excellence

Many changes were made in the administration and faculty this year. Students were surprised to find that Dr. Bailey was no longer principal and that Mr. Roger Dallek held the position. Mr. Dallek has been in Prince William County for thirteen years as both a teacher of US History and as an assistant principal at Woodbridge Senior High School and Stonewall Jackson Senior High School. He resides in Dale City with his wife Pam, his two children, David, age 9, and Katie, age 6, and Muffin, his 10 year old cocker spaniel whom he fondly refers to as his "first born". One of the first concerns that Mr. Dallek faced was "the fence". Although he was not responsible for the installation of the fence, his standard response to questions concerning it was, "The fence is a non-factor." Mr. Dallek's major concern is with Academics. He believes that by intensifying instruction and eliminating distractions, students will achieve more in the classroom. He is a firm believer in making sure that the students of Gar-Field obtain the best education possible.

Along with a new principal, Gar-Field also welcomed Ms. Sara Fitts and Mr. Ron Thompson as ninth grade assistant principals. Ms. Fitts was a former math teacher at Osbourn Park Senior High School, and Mr. Thompson was an assistant principal at Stonewall Jackson before coming to Gar-Field. The new eleventh grade assistant principal this year is Mr. Jim Council, who was a choral director at Rippon Middle School. Gar-Field also welcomed eighteen new teachers to its staff.

With two 500 and one 400 Cannon Xerox machines, Mrs. Nancy Collatos copies 2500 instructional forms for the staff each day or approximately 2,000,000 copies per year.

A new addition to Gar-Field this year is the security fence. Installation of the fence began in the spring of 1987 and was completed over the summer.

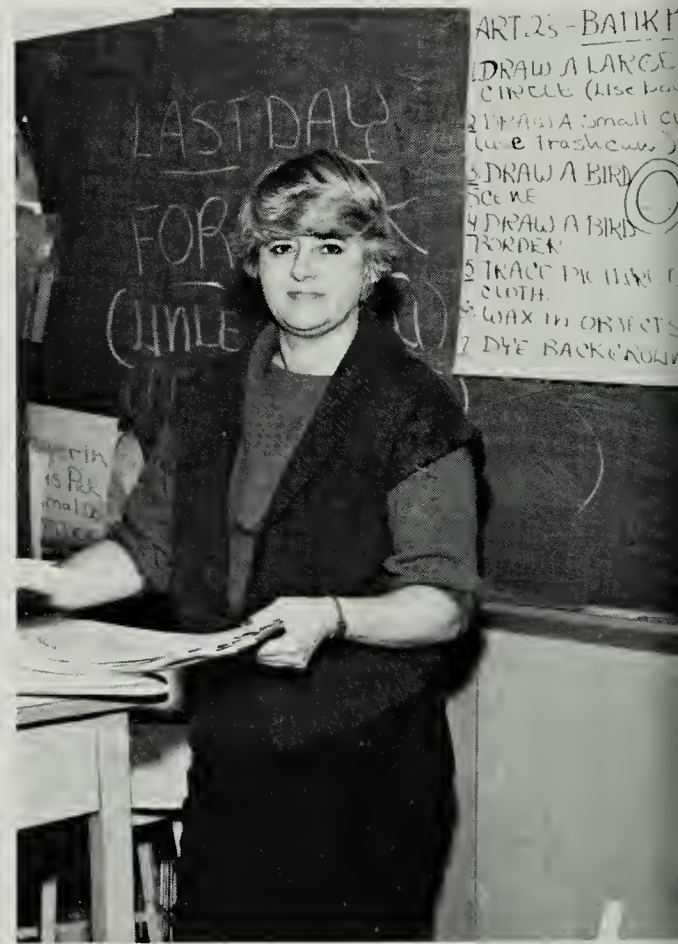

Mrs. Judy Zophy enjoys working with special students.

Weekly current events assignments help students in Mr. Kirk Darrough's American Studies I classes realize that studying the past leads to understanding the present.

Keeping a watchful eye on the Boys Varsity Soccer team as they play against Potomac is Coach Rudy Zimmermann.

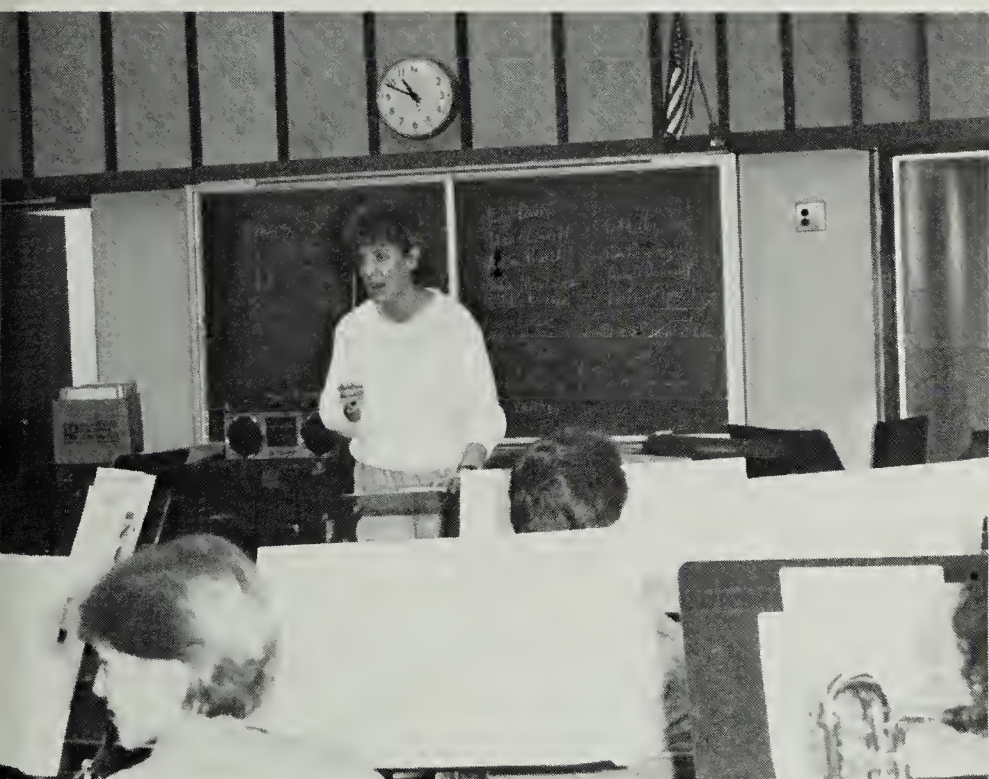

"Look at your hands, look at your feet, it was clean when you came, so make it clean when you leave," says Ms. Darlene Wooley at the end of the period to her art classes.

Getting to know students better is all part of the job for Mr. Rodger Fitzgerald as he and freshman Stephanie Cuff discuss her plans for the future.

Preparing for the Annual Christmas Concert, band director Ms. Melinda McKenzie rehearses Gustav Holst's Second Suite in F with the band.

If anybody knows all of the athletic, club, and community events scheduled in the school both day and night, it would be none other than Mr. Bob Sherrill in his position as Activities Director.

Many students think that teachers arrive at school eager to impart their vast store of knowledge to them and that is it. Surprise! Teachers actually do have other interests besides school. You could even say that some lead double lives. Who would of guessed that Ms. Meg Gruber is not only interested in rocks and fossils, but is a fan of the New York Islanders hockey team. Or that Mr. Chuck Castrina has been a sports writer for the Fredericksburg Freelance Star for eight years. Who would of known that Mrs. Clara Harris was the founder and first president of WICA (Women in Community Action). As you can see, teachers lives don't always revolve around students.

Two Joshua's became new editions to the G-F family this year. Mrs. Linda Melton gave birth to 9lb. 3 oz. Joshua Ryan Melton on August 24 and Mr. Nathaniel Spencer came home with 8lb. Joshua Devin Spencer to the delight of his brother, 6 year old Brandon.

Some students seem to forget that most of the staff have major responsibilities at home: children. Many working parents face the same dilemma but for the faculty, there's a distinct difference. After being in school all day with children, they have to go home and face their own. Take Security Officer Mr. Pat Gregoire for example. He thinks of himself as "Mr. Mom", since his wife is a flight attendant and gone three days a week. A normal day for Mr. Gregoire is never boring. Rushing home from work, he has to pick up his daughter, Kristen, from marching band practice just to rush home to bring his son Ian to piano practice. After that, he prepares a great feast for dinner. "You should see me when I'm cooking Hamburger Helper," he comments. Then making sure that all chores and homework are done, he settles everyone in to bed. "My head hits the pillow at 9:30, and I'm asleep by 9:31," says Mr. Gregoire. This may not be the case for every staff member, but you have to give them some credit.

ed men as the living are to the dead" -- Aristotle

Whenever in doubt, ask the teacher! Rhonda Mason learned this lesson quickly when working on her English paper in the library. Of course, English teacher Mrs. Stephanie Koepping obliged her with a smile.

It is all fun and games! Math teacher Ms. Toni Robertson and Diana Cappel laugh it up over a subject that most of us consider to be not very funny: MATH!

Working behind the scenes, It's Academic sponsor Mr. Chuck Castrina watches as Gar-Field placed second against Parkdale and Fairfax High Schools.

Twelfth Grade Principal Mr. Frank Bradsher is often seen at school "after hours", such as on Friday, November 13 during the Prince William Model UN III simulation held at G-F.

Who says that Business Law has to be taken seriously? Ms. Alice Wimmer kids around about a case with students.

Lending a helping hand in Accounting I, Mrs. Sherel Frere answers LaWanda Benefield's question about debits and credits.

After making sure that all of his students are in the "neighborhood", American Studies II teacher Mr. Bob Greer waits for the bell to ring.

Only a Chemistry teacher like Mrs. Joan Taylor could tell which of the bottles on her desk contains hydrochloric acid and which contains nitric acid.

Body Language is the key to Coach Larry Bell when giving instructions during the Boys Varsity Basketball tryouts.

Demonstrating how "We Will Stand" should be sung, Mrs. Debbie Moyers does it with gusto.

After completing a problem at the board, Mr. Edgar Tucker turns around to prepare to answer questions from his class.

Technology, Research, and Fun

Using the latest technology, Ms. Chery Heedick patiently waits for her students to prepare to have their French interviews video taped.

One of the fun ways assistant principal Mr. Ron Thompson gets to know students is by selling those much sought after parking passes during the lunch shifts.

Researching the problems of the Simpson-Marzoli immigration law is Peter Widlund, a foreign exchange student from Sweden, and Mrs. Jeri Cantwell.

Paper, Paper, Paper!

Forms, forms, and more forms! Ms. Jane Huestis finds that she spends a good amount of time filling out absentee notes, interims, tardy letters, passes, cut slips, lesson plans ... and the list goes on.

Guidance secretary Mrs. Helen Cecil is used to going through mounds of paperwork each day.

rs. Connie Barley enjoys working with such ne Gar-Field students like Lisa David.

Calculating grades is a tough job, but somebody has to do it. English teacher Mrs. Sharon Burniston also finds time to publish the school newsmagazine HYPHEN.

For both faculty and students school brings paperwork piled upon desks. From the first day of school forms and pages of information are sent home and then returned only to add frustration to students and teachers. Senior Tony Brula remembers the first week of parental signatures and says, "It's dumb because no one reads them [forms], and it seems like a waste of paper."

After the first week is completed, lockers have to be distributed, but only if emergency cards and other forms are returned. Every locker in the school has a combination, all of which are recorded by Assistant Principal Mr. Frank Bradsher who is in charge of locker distribution. He says not only is there paperwork involved in distribution, but teachers receive the list of combinations for their class and then must find partners for each locker to be sent back to Mr. Bradsher's office. "Lockers are probably the most difficult administrative job," says Principal Mr. Roger Dallek. "The most visible object which seems so simple is really the most complex."

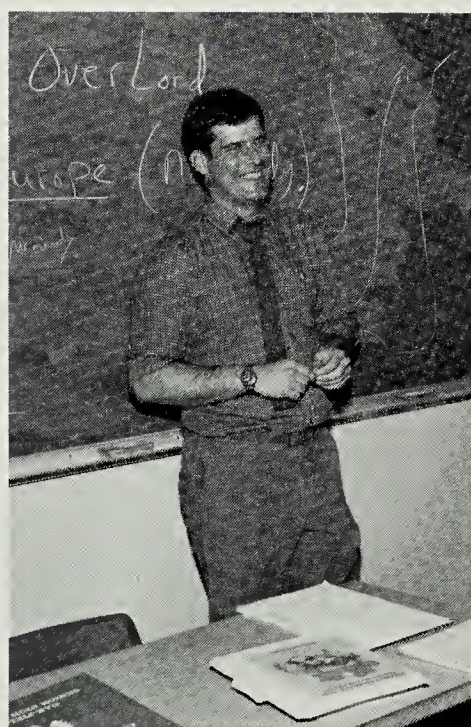

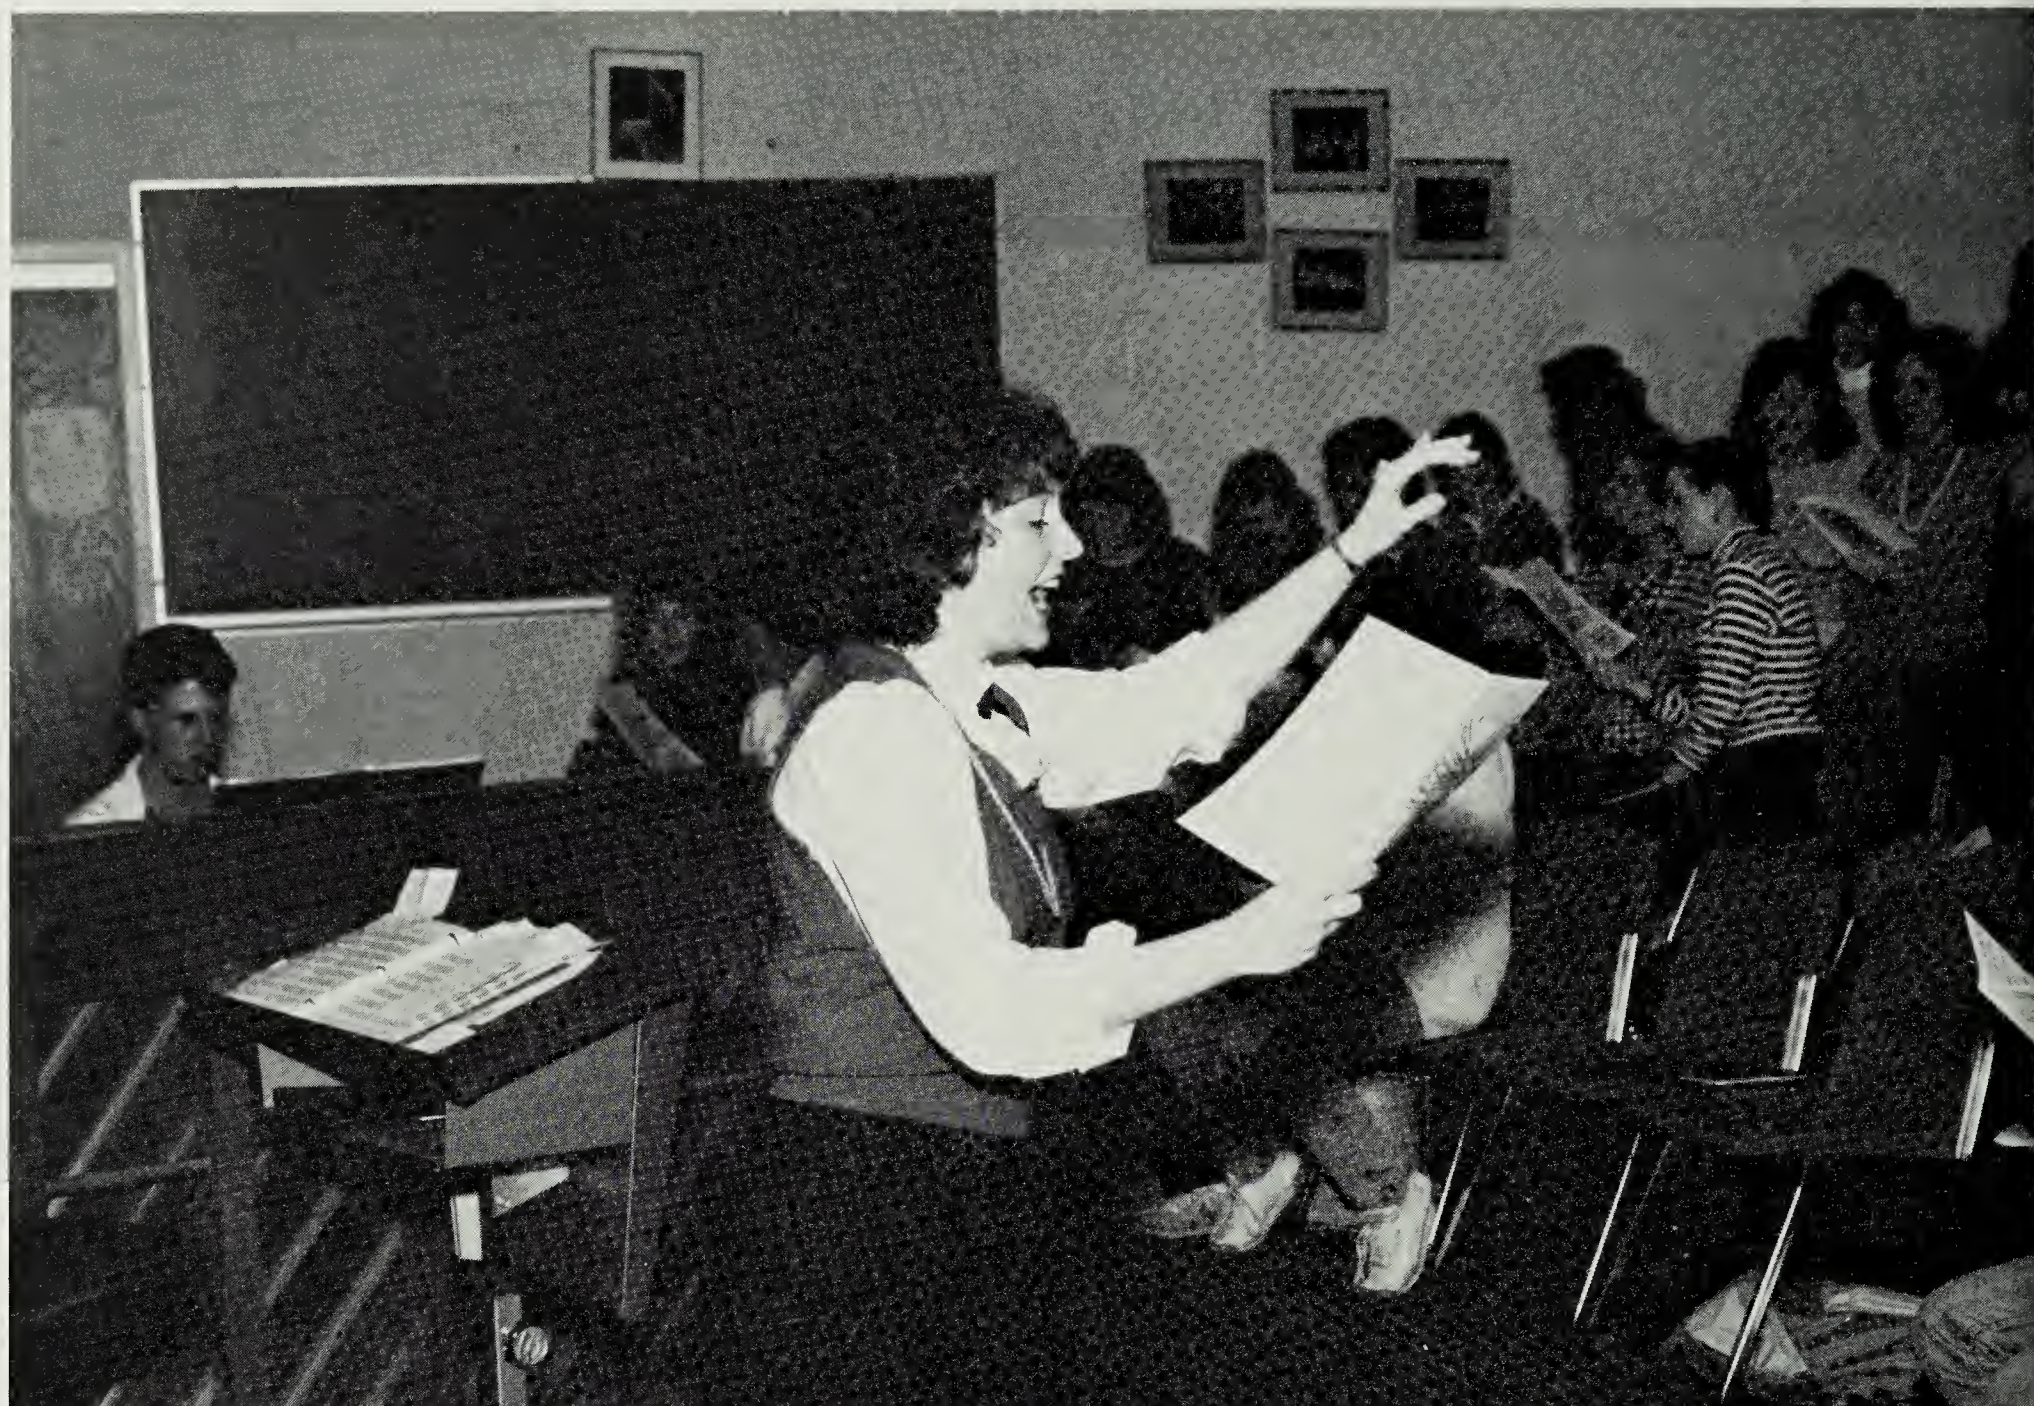

Following the initial three week transition the dreaded interim is distributed. "The first three weeks I usually give an interim to everyone, so they can see how they're doing," says Science teacher Ms. Christina Hammill. She also added that although it takes some time to compute every students' grades, she can also find out how well everyone is learning.

For those who are not doing exceptionally well, a schedule change may be the answer, but just remember all of the paperwork that goes into that seemingly simple task.

Money, Revolution, & the Arts

Mrs. Debbie Moyers rehearses the Spring Show finale "We Will Stand" with the Concert Choir.

"You don't really want to talk about relationships, do you?" Mr. Chris Aleo asks his 2nd period Sociology class.

Mrs. Terri Marx explains the causes and effects of the Industrial Revolution to her 1st period World Studies I class.

Explaining money management techniques in relationship to the October stock market crash to his ICT students is Mr. Jim Artz.

Working with Jeff Smith on his expository writing assignment is Mrs. Linda Little.

Quizzes & Reviewing!

Mrs. Loretta Cocca's Spanish 2 & 3 classes are always prepared for their weeeekly vocabulary quiz. Can you define tesoro escondido and naufragio?

Reviewing schematic symbols with a student ensures Mr. Jerry Lucas that the student is ready to advance to working on a live circuit board.

Decisions & Strategy

Concentration on strong and well placed serves are required to beat the Woodbridge JV Volleyball Team explains Coach Ed Johnson to our team.

Reading and interpretation is a year round objective in Mr. Chuck Castrina's English class. Just as James Mitchem, Nicole Gray, and Warren Watkins.

We managed to catch these two music buffs, Mr. Jim Council and Mr. Paul Schrum, in a discussion of the pieces to be performed at the Christmas Concert.

It didn't take long for our own one man welcoming committee, Steve Marsh, to make our new assistant principal, Mr. Ron Thompson, feel right at home at G-F.

Explaining & Hoping

Mr. Ken Pearson always listens very carefully to his students questions, especially if they concern the Renaissance era which is one of his favorite areas of world history.

This is the way you do it. Math teacher Ms. Faye Simon explains to Phil Letelier how to solve a difficult algebra problem.

Although she may be smiling, Mrs. Karen Hundley doesn't consider averaging grades for her typing classes her idea of fun.

For convenience sake, most math teachers, like Mr. Gary VanWinkle, find it easier to use an overhead instead of a chalkboard.

Watching with nervous anticipation, Coach Mickey Sullivan hopes that the Varsity Volleyball team will be able to achieve another victory.

COLOPHON

The 1988 Gar-Field Senior High School Indian Echoes was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, State College, Pennsylvania. 1600 copies of 288 book pages were run off by Jostens plant personnel. Our representative was Mr. Al Ramer. Ms. Linda Nolf was our plant consultant. We would like to take this time to thank both of these people for helping us produce our book.

Because our staff consisted of only eight people, each section of the yearbook was covered by the total staff. Every staff member had not only a specific section of the book to oversee but also two or more sports and clubs to work with. We would like to thank Mike Gunn and Sandra Blackett for helping write copy and Jay Ziesler for his freelance photography. We would like to especially thank all of the coaches, and club sponsors for their patience and input towards making this book such a success.

Mike Howard, Osie Brown, Leonard Rowe, Susan Straight, Rob Phinney, and Richard Evirs.
